107. The following records may be destroyed after the expiration of three full years from the period to which they relate :—

Receipts referred to in rule 81.
All correspondence, whether in English or in the vernacular, which is of an ordinary routine character, and which the Registrar considers may be destroyed.
Monthly returns, petitions, and other records and papers not otherwise specified.

108. No books or papers whatever shall be destroyed at a sub-registry office without the previous sanction of the Inspector-General.

109. The register books and indexes of the general registry offices under Act XVI of 1864 and Act XX of 1866, shall be preserved in the Calcutta Registry Office.

110. All applications for search or for copies should be made to the registering officer himself.

Applications for search or copies.

If an application is made in writing, the registering officer should initial it at once, giving the date. If an application is made vivâ voce, the registering officer should write on a slip of paper, "Give copy," or some such brief order, adding his initials and date. All such applications and orders should be preserved on a separate file, the date on which a search has been made or copy completed being noted. Applications made through Sub-Registrars for copies from registers deposited in the district office must be in writing, and should be at once transmitted to the Registrar for compliance. No stamp is required on applications for searches or copies.

111. Registrars shall permit search and grant copies of entries in the registers kept up previous to the enactment of Act VIII of 1871, at the same rate of fees, and to the same extent as in the case of registers under that Act.

112. A call for information from any court or revenue authority shall, if it necessitates search in the registers, be accompanied by the necessary fee for search. Officers of Government shall be permitted to inspect the registers without fee; but if the production of a register book in any court is required, it shall be produced by an officer of the registration establishment deputed for that purpose, who will be entitled to claim payment of his expenses like any other witness.

113. Registering officers shall take care that their clerks have no dealings with the public, except in their presence. They shall themselves receive documents which are tendered for registration; and when they are registered, shall return them with their own hands.

114. The serial number of the last document in each book completed and ready for return shall be daily notified in some conspicuous place outside every office.

115. A catalogue in the prescribed form shall be kept up and permanently preserved in every registry office. On the occasion of every permanent change in the incumbency, the officer receiving charge should compare his books with the catalogue, and certify therein that he has found them correct.

Catalogue.

Table of fees.

116. A printed table of fees in English and the vernacular of the district shall be suspended in some conspicuous place in every registry office.

117. Columns 1, 7, and 13 in the fee book should be filled up as soon as any document is presented, except in the case of documents presented at the wrong office and returned under rule 51; columns 8 and 9 should be filled up as soon as a document is admitted or refused; columns 10 and 11, as soon as registration has been completed; column 12, as soon as the document has been delivered, and column 14, as soon as the required copies and memoranda have been despatched.

118. Where the Sub-Registrar is a salaried officer, and only receives commission, in addition to his salary, he should remit the fees to the treasury daily. Remittances to the treasury should be accompanied by the Chalan book duly filled up in duplicate. One copy of each chalan will then be kept by the treasury officer and the other returned with his signature.

119. Before the 1st of September of each year, every Sub-Registrar shall submit to the Registrar to whom he is subordinate, an indent in the prescribed form for all register books and other registration forms which will be required in his office during the following calendar year.

Indent for register books or other forms.

120. Every Registrar shall submit to the Inspector-General before the 15th September of each year an indent in quadruplicate in the prescribed form for all register books, and other registration forms which will be required for his own office, and those of the Sub-Registrars subordinate to him during the following calendar year. When it is desired that the supply of register books, &c., should be forwarded to any sub-registry office direct instead of being sent through the office of the Registrar to whom he is subordinate, an intimation to that effect should accompany the Registrar's indent, and the indents of such Sub-Registrars should be submitted separately in quadruplicate with the Registrar's endorsement instead of being embodied in the Registrar's indent.

121. When delay occurs in supplying register books and other registration forms, reminders should be addressed, not to the Inspector-General of Registration, but to the Superintendent of the Alipore Jail Press, the number of the Stationery office order being quoted. Reminders are useless without it.

122. Indents for the forms enumerated in the margin which have been prescribed by the Accountant-General should be submitted in triplicate in March of each year, direct to the Superintendent of Stationery.

184. Acquittance roll of establishment.

123. Rural Sub-Registrars may be supplied with registration ink and other stationery from the district office at cost price, which should be ascertained from the Superintendent of Stationery. The hand-laid medium paper required for copies under sections 64 and 65 will be supplied to them gratis.

Indents for stationery.

JUNE.—Patna, Bhaugulpore, and Rajshahye Divisions, except the district of Rajshahye.

124. Before the several dates noted in the margin all District Registrars should send to the Superintendent of Stationery an indent in duplicate in the prescribed form for the stationery (including registration ink) which will be required for the registry offices in their districts during the next twelve months; indents from Sub-Registrars should be submitted to the district office at least 15 days before these dates. The Registrar's indent should include all ink and other stationery likely to be required by rural Sub-Registrars under rule 123 above.

125. All official letters and covers sent by post from any Sub-Registry or District Registry office must be prepaid by service labels. These labels will be supplied to Sub-Registrars (on application) by District Registrars, who will disallow unreasonable and excessive demands. A monthly statement of the distribution of service postage labels should be submitted by each District Registrar for the information of the Inspector-General. A permanent advance of Rs. 20 for postal charges is allowed to District Registrars. All bills for bearing covers must be accompanied by the covers on which the payments were made as vouchers. Service labels will be purchased by District Registrars as they require them, the expenditure being included in their monthly postal bill supported by the treasury officer's receipts as vouchers.

126. When an officer is temporarily placed in charge of the office of a Special Sub-Registrar during his absence on inspection duty in the interior of his district, he is not entitled to draw commission which the Special Sub-Registrar retains.

127. The security bonds of head-clerks should be examined at the close of each financial year, the result being reported to the Inspector-General.

128. The receipts entered in the fee book need not be entered in detail in the cash book. Their daily totals will be sufficient. But all other receipts and all payments whatsoever must be entered in full detail in the cash book. All cash received must at once be entered either in the fee book or in the cash book. No money should under any circumstances be kept out of account. The cash book should be balanced every day, and signed after careful examination by the registering officer.

129. All permanent advances must be repaid into the treasury on the 31st of March of each year, and drawn again in the following month.

130. Registrars and Sub-Registrars who are paid by fixed salaries will draw their pay in Accountant-General's form No. 117, and the bill may be paid without the countersignature of superior authority.

131. Salaried Sub-Registrars who are also entitled to a percentage on the fees, will draw their commission at the end of each month in Accountant-General's form No. 116, at such rate as may have been sanctioned by Government, but upon such fees only as shall have been actually paid into the treasury during the month. No commission is payable on fines, or on the extra fees for registration by a Registrar, or on the receipts for the sale of paper. Commission bills require the Registrar's countersignature before payment.

132. Sub-Registrars who are paid by fees only, and receive 50 per cent. and upwards of those fees, will retain them until the end of each month, and then remit the Government share of them to the treasury, with an account current in duplicate in the prescribed form A. G. B. No. 200.

133. Salary bills for permanent establishments will be drawn in Accountant-General's form No. 118, by the head of the office. They do not require the countersignature of higher authority.

134. Bills for extra establishments paid by salary may be drawn in the same way as those for fixed establishments, the orders sanctioning their entertainment being always quoted in the bill.

135. Bills for wages of extra writers paid at contract rates require the countersignature of the Inspector-General before payment.

136. Travelling allowances of registering officers and their clerks will be drawn in Accountant-General's form Nos. 120 and 121 respectively; and in both cases they must invariably be submitted to the Inspector-General for countersignature before payment, whatever may be the amount of the bill.

137. When ministerial officers of the department are deputed to give evidence or to produce records before any court, their travelling expenses will be paid by the court.

138. House and office rent sanctioned by Government may be drawn by the head of the office without the countersignature of higher authority, the number and date of the Government order being always quoted in the bill.

139. Office furniture must not be purchased without the sanction of the Inspector-General. An estimate of the probable cost should accompany all applications for such sanction.

140. The salary of sweepers cannot be charged to contingencies. The wages of pankha-pullers may be so charged when their employment has been sanctioned.

141. No charges for printing may be incurred without the special sanction of the Inspector-General. Such printed forms as are necessary will be printed at the Alipore Jail Press under the authority of the Inspector-General.

142. English stationery procurable from the Stationery Office may not be purchased in the local market, but charges for petty articles, such as sealing-ink, paste, thread, country paper, &c., may be included in the monthly contingent bill.

143. Sub-Registrars' contingent bills should be presented for payment at the end of each month, and if the total charge does not exceed Rs. 10, the Registrar's countersignature is sufficient for audit.

144. Registrars' contingent bills not exceeding Rs. 10 in amount, do not require countersignature.

145. A permanent advance of Rs. 10 is allowed to all Registrars and ex-officio Sub-Registrars for ordinary contingent charges. When the expenditure during any month on account of contingencies in any Registrar's or ex-officio Sub-Registrar's office exceeds the amount of the permanent advance, the amount expended may be drawn by an abstract bill or bills (see Accountant-General's form No. 119) submitted during the month under the Registrar's signature or countersignature. But in such cases a detailed bill (see Accountant-General's form No. 138) accompanied by vouchers must also be submitted at the end of the month.

146. A duplicate bill should never be submitted unless the original is lost in transit or otherwise, in which case a certificate should be attached to the effect that the bill has not been cashed at the treasury.

147. Bills, monthly returns, and regular indents, should not be accompanied by covering letters. The envelopes containing them should be marked "Returns." Letters and urgent indents should be separately sent.

Notice

Is hereby given that in consequence of the construction of the new road from Giridi on the Karharbari Branch of the East Indian Railway to Hazaribaugh, all goods can most conveniently be sent to Hazaribaugh by that route instead of by the railway to Barakur only. The undersigned therefore invites all Government officers, tradesmen and other gentlemen who may not be specially instructed to the contrary by their consignees, and who do not avail themselves of the Government parcel post, to send their consignments and goods to the care of the Station Master, Giridi

This request is made as the transport agency has been removed from the Barakar, and the route by Giridi is shorter and less expensive.

PART II.

Powers of Collector and procedure thereon.

Powers of Collector. 4. Under the conditions and in the manner hereinafter provided—

Power to take charge of embankments. (1.) The Collector may cause any embankment which connects public embankments, or forms, by junction with them, part of a line of embankments, or any embankment or watercourse which is necessary for the protection or drainage of the neighbouring country, to be taken charge of and maintained by the officers of Government.

Power to remove embankments and obstructions. (2.) The Collector may cause to be removed or altered any embankment which endangers the stability of a public embankment, or any obstruction of any kind which interferes with the general drainage of any tract of land.

Power to change line of embankment. (3.) The Collector may, when necessary, change the line of or lengthen any public embankment; or make a new embankment in the place of or renew any public embankment; or make an embankment in any place in which he may deem such embankment required for the protection of any lands, or for the improvement of any watercourse; or make a sluice in any public embankment.

Power to improve drainage. (4.) The Collector may construct any sluice or watercourse, or effect any alteration in any public watercourse, when such construction or alteration may be required for the improvement of the health, or for the protection of any village or cultivable land.

Power to alter roads and construct watercourses. (5.) The Collector may call upon the person in charge of any road which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land to alter such road, or to construct any watercourse under or through such road. In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Collector shall prescribe, the said Collector may cause the road to be altered, or a watercourse to be constructed. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the person in charge of the said road, so far as the same shall have been incurred on account of insufficient provision having been made at the time of the construction of the said road for the natural drainage then existing.

Applications for sluices to be made to Collector. (6.) If any landholder, farmer, or cultivator be desirous of having a sluice made in any public embankment for the purpose of drainage or irrigation, he shall make an application in writing to the Collector of the district in which such embankment is situate. The application shall contain such particulars of the land to be drained or irrigated as may enable the Collector to judge of the advantage which may be derived from the work. The Collector shall decide whether it is expedient that such application shall be granted.

Application for new embankment or drainage to be made to Collector. (7.) Whenever any person is desirous that any new embankment be erected, or that any new watercourse be made, or that any watercourse be obstructed or diverted, if such work is likely to interfere with, counteract, or impede any public embankment or any public watercourse, he shall apply to the Collector, and at the time of making such application shall deposit with him a statement of the proposed work. The Collector shall decide whether it is expedient that such application shall be granted.

Procedure. 5. When it shall appear expedient to the Collector that any of the works specified in the last preceding section should be executed, he shall cause to be prepared plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map showing the boundaries of the villages of the various estates likely to be affected by the said works, and he shall cause a proclamation to be issued giving notice of his intention to cause such works to be executed. Such proclamation shall be in the form, and state the particulars mentioned in Schedule (A) annexed to this Act; and the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as aforesaid, shall be kept at the office of the Collector and shall be open to the inspection of any interested persons who shall be allowed to take copies thereof. The Collector shall not commence any of such works until final order made in respect thereto under the provisions of Sections 8, 59, and 60 of this Act.

Publication of proclamation. 6. Every such proclamation shall be published by affixing the same at the cutcherry of the Collector, and in the manner provided in the third clause of Section 57.

Proclamation to be published for thirty days. 7. Every such proclamation shall be published not less than thirty days before the day appointed for hearing the persons interested.

Hearing of objections to works.

8. The Collector shall, on the day appointed for the hearing, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing shall be adjourned, hear the objections of any persons who may appear, and, after recording any evidence which they may adduce, shall pass an order in regard to the execution of the proposed works. Notice of such order shall be served on such persons as may have appeared in pursuance of the proclamation.

Authority to take proceedings where lands likely to be affected by the works are in different districts;

9. If the lands, which are likely to be affected by any such proposed works, are situated within the limits of different districts, the Collector of any district, within which any portion of such lands is situated, shall apply to the Commissioner of the division for authority to proceed in such matter; and the Commissioner of the division, if all the lands are situated within his division, may give authority to such Collector, or to any other Collector within whose district any portion of such lands is situated, to proceed in respect of all the lands likely to be affected by such works.

If the districts, within which the lands likely to be affected by any such works are situated, are subject to the Commissioners of different divisions, the Collector shall apply to the Commissioner of the division within which his district is situated, and such Commissioner may, with the concurrence of the Commissioner to whom the other district is subject, give authority to proceed in such matter.

The Collector may delegate certain powers to Engineer.

10. All the powers vested in the Collector by Section 4 of this Act, may be exercised by the Engineer in cases referred to him by the Collector subject to the general orders of the Collector.

PART III.

Procedure in cases of imminent danger to life or property.

Proceedings in emergencies.

11. Whenever the Collector shall be of opinion that the proceedings commenced by notice under Sections 5 to 8 of this Act would cause delay in the exercise of any of the powers conferred upon him by Clauses 2, 3, and 4 of Section 4, likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to commence to exercise such powers. Provided that he shall forthwith cause to be prepared the plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed works, together with a copy of the survey map as provided in Section 5, and shall cause a proclamation to be issued as provided in that section giving notice that the work mentioned therein has already been commenced, and thereupon such proceedings and inquiries shall be had as in and by Part II of this Act are directed.

Power to take possession of land.

12. Whenever any land, or earth from any land the property of any person, is required for the purposes of any works commenced in pursuance of the provisions of the last preceding section, or for the purposes of Section 18 in cases where the Collector shall be of opinion that proceedings for the acquisition of such land according to the provisions hereinafter contained in Section 25, would cause delay as aforesaid, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (B) annexed to this Act, giving notice thereof at convenient places in the locality in which such land is situated, and he may at the same time take possession of the same for the said purposes.

Compensation for standing crops and trees.

13. The Collector shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of the crops and trees (if any) standing on such land, and shall offer adequate compensation to the persons interested. If such offer is not accepted, the value of such crops and trees shall be allowed for in awarding compensation for the land under the provisions of Section 29.

Power to Engineer to act in absence of Collector.

14. The Collector may depute to the Engineer the powers described in Sections 11, 12, and 13 subject to his own general orders, and in that case when the Collector is not present the Engineer may, if he shall be of opinion that delay for the purpose of obtaining the orders of the Collector would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, exercise the powers conferred on him by the Collector.

Power to restore embankments, &c.

15. Whenever, upon an inquiry had under the provisions of this Part, it has been determined in the final order to be passed on such inquiry that anything done by the Collector, or by the Engineer under the last preceding section was unnecessary, the land or the embankments or drainage shall, so far as any alteration thereof shall appear to be unnecessary, be at the expense of the Government restored as nearly as possible to the state in which they were when the Collector commenced to act under the provisions of this Part; and any person who shall have sustained loss, damage, or injury by the execution of such works, shall receive compensation from the Government to be assessed according to the provisions contained in Part V of this Act.

Section 9 to apply to proceedings under this Part.

16. The provisions of Section 9 shall be applicable to proceedings taken under this Part.

PART IV.

Powers of Engineer.

Engineer subject to control of Collector.

17. The power conferred on the Engineer under this Part shall be exercised subject to the general control and orders of the Collector.

Power to make repairs.

18. The Engineer may make any repairs in, and may do all acts necessary and proper for the maintenance of any public embankment, public watercourse, or other work executed or taken charge of under the provisions of this Act, or of any of the Acts repealed by this Act.

Power to alter railroads or construct watercourses.

19. The Engineer may call upon the manager, or other person in charge of any railroad which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land, to alter such railroad or or to construct any watercourse under or through such railroad. In the event of such person failing to comply with such requisition in such manner and within such time as the Engineer shall prescribe, the Engineer may thereupon, with the previous sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, cause the said railroad to be altered, or a watercourse to be constructed in such manner as the Lieutenant-Governor shall direct. The expenses of such alteration or construction shall be borne by the said manager, or other person in charge of the said railroad, so far as the same shall have been incurred on account of insufficient provision having been made at the time of the construction of the said railroad for the natural drainage then existing.

Power to make temporary roadway, watercourse or dam.

20. Whenever any person is desirous that a temporary roadway should be made over, or that a temporary watercourse should be made through, any public embankment, or that a temporary dam should be constructed in any embanked river or public watercourse, he shall apply to the Engineer, who shall communicate the application to the Collector, and the Collector shall pass such orders thereon as he shall think fit. If the proposed work is to be executed by an officer of Government, the applicant, before the commencement of the work, shall deposit the amount estimated by the Engineer to be necessary to defray the expenses of, and incidental to, making and removing such roadway, or of, and incidental to, making and closing or removing such watercourse or dam. If the amount deposited is found insufficient, the Engineer shall recover from the said applicant the further amount required; and if it exceeds the amount required, such excess shall be returned to the said applicant.

Power to remove houses.

21. Whenever the Engineer shall be of opinion that the removal of any trees, houses, huts, or other buildings, situated between a public embankment and the river, is necessary, he shall make a report to that effect, accompanied by a detailed statement of the trees, houses, huts, or other buildings to be removed, to the Collector of the district in whose jurisdiction the land on which such trees, houses, huts, or other buildings stand, is situated; and the Collector shall report the same to the Lieutenant-Governor in order that proceedings may be taken, in accordance with the provisions of "The Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870," or other law for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes, for obtaining possession of such trees, houses, huts, and buildings. Provided always that in case the Collector be of opinion that the delay required by such proceedings is likely to be attended with grave and imminent danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him forthwith to cause such trees, houses, huts, or buildings to be removed, and in such case the compensation due therefor shall be ascertained and paid in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sluices to be opened or shut under authority of the Engineer.

22. Sluices constructed in any public embankment shall be opened or shut only by or with the general or special permission of the officer in the immediate charge of the embankment, under such orders, either general or special, as he may receive from the Engineer.

Power to appropriate land or earth for embanked towpath.

23. In any case where an embanked towpath has heretofore been maintained by Government alongside any canal, river, khal, or channel, the Engineer shall be entitled to appropriate without payment, as heretofore, land or earth for the maintenance, repair, or re-construction of such embanked towpath. If in any case the Engineer shall consider it necessary for the purposes of towing to enlarge an existing towpath, or to construct a new towpath, proceedings shall be taken in accordance with the subsequent provisions of this Act relating thereto.

Power to enter and survey land, &c.

24. It shall be lawful for the Engineer, or any person whom he may authorize in that behalf, in order to carry out any of the purposes of this Act, to enter upon, and survey, and take levels of any land;

to dig or bore into the sub-soil;

to do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is adapted to the purpose projected by such Engineer; or by the Collector;

Power to mark out line.

to set out the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken, and the intended line of the work proposed to be made thereon; to mark such levels, boundaries, and line, by placing marks and cutting trenches;

Power to clear land.

and, where otherwise the survey cannot be completed or the levels taken, to cut down and clear away any part of any standing crop, fence, or jungle.

Previous notice of entry.

Provided that no person shall enter into any building or upon any enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house (unless with the consent of the occupier thereof) without previously giving such occupier at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention to do so.

Payment for damage.

The Engineer or other person so authorized shall at the time of such entry pay or tender payment for all necessary damage to be done as aforesaid, and, in case of dispute as to the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered, he shall at once refer the dispute to the decision of the Collector, and such decision shall be final.

PART V.

Acquisition of lands.

Acquisition of land.

25. Whenever in the course of proceedings under this Act, save in those cases in which the Collector has proceeded under the provisions of Part III, it appears that land is required for any of the purposes thereof, proceedings shall be forthwith taken for the acquisition of such land in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being for the acquisition of lands for public purposes.

When land taken, proclamation to be published.

26. Whenever any land shall have been taken or used under the provisions of Part III, the Collector shall cause a proclamation to be issued in form in Schedule (C) annexed to this Act at convenient places on or near the land so taken, stating that Government has taken possession of the land, and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land shall be made to him. Thereupon the land shall vest absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances, subject, however, to the claims for compensation to be ascertained in manner as in this Part is provided.

Contents of proclamation.

27. Such proclamation shall state the particulars of the land so taken, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of issuing the proclamation), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interest.

Further notice to be served on certain parties.

28. The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside, or have agents authorized to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate.

Proceedings after notice.

29. After service of such notice proceedings shall be had and taken to determine the amount of compensation to be payable in respect of such land, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Compensation for consequential damage.

30. Whenever any land other than land required or taken by the Engineer, or any right of fishery, right of drainage, right of the use of water, or other right or property, shall have been injuriously affected by the due exercise of the powers or provisions of this Act, the person in whom such property or right is vested may prefer a claim by petition to the Collector for compensation.

Application to be made within two years.

31. No claim shall be entertained which shall be made later than two years next after the completion of the work by which such right is injuriously affected.

Procedure for such compensation.

32. When any such claim is made, proceedings shall be taken in view to determine the amount of compensation, if any, which should be made, and the person to whom the same should be payable, in accordance with the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, X of 1870, or any other law for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

Matters to be considered in determining compensation.

33. In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded in such cases, the Judge and Assessors shall take into consideration—

First, the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land;

Secondly, the damage sustained by the claimant by reason of such acquisition injuriously affecting the property or right;

Thirdly, the consequent diminution of the market value of the property or right injuriously affected at the time of acquiring the land.

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation.

But the Judge or Assessors shall not take into consideration—

First, the degree of urgency which has led to the acquisition;

Secondly, any damage sustained by the claimant, which, if caused by a private person, would not in any suit instituted against such person justify a decree for damages.

Land, &c., taken possession of to vest in Government.

34. All buildings, land, earth, pathways, sluices, gates, bermes, hedges, belonging to, or forming part of, any embankment or watercourse, of which charge has been or may hereafter be taken by the officers of Government, shall vest in the Government, and shall be held on behalf of the Government in respect of the embankments mentioned in Schedule (D) annexed to this Act, and in respect of other works on behalf of the persons interested in the lands to be protected or benefited by such embankment or watercourse, subject to the provisions of Section 63; and all monies received on account of such lands shall be payable to the Engineer and credited to the cost of the construction and maintenance of such works respectively.

PART VI.

COST OF WORKS, PROCEEDINGS, &c.

1. Ascertainment thereof.

PART III.—LABOR DISTRICTS.

Chapter 8.—Inland Labor Transport Fund.

Annual rate payable by employers.

95. The Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time, by order published in the Calcutta Gazette, fix a yearly rate, not exceeding one rupee and eight annas per laborer, for the purpose of defraying the expense of carrying out the purposes of this Act; and the sum or rate so fixed shall be paid half-yearly by each employer on the last day of July and the last day of January in each year for each laborer entered in the last return of laborers furnished (as is hereinafter provided) by such employer before such date.

Payment of rate how to be enforced.

96. If any employer shall fail to comply with the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to notify such default to him; and if within one month from the receipt of such notification, or such longer period as it may, under special circumstances, appear to the magistrate reasonable, such employer shall not so comply, the magistrate shall, by distress and sale of any moveable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer, levy the sum so payable.

If there shall be no such moveable property, or insufficient moveable property so found, the amount shall be recoverable by a civil regular suit from the person for whose benefit the laborers in respect of whom the same may be payable shall have been employed. In every such suit the Government shall be named as plaintiff, and the cause of action shall be taken to have arisen within the limits of the jurisdiction of any court having jurisdiction at any place where any such laborers may have been employed by such employer.

Fines, fees, and rates to be credited to "Inland Labor Transport Fund."

97. Subject to the powers conferred on a magistrate by this Act or by the Code of Criminal Procedure, of awarding fines in whole or in part as compensation to or for the benefit of any complainant or other person, all fines, fees, and rates levied and paid under this Act shall be credited to a fund which shall be called the "Inland Labor Transport Fund," and such fund shall be at the disposal of the Lieutenant-Governor for defraying the expenses of carrying out the purposes of this Act.

Chapter 9.—Inspector's Returns and Magistrates' Inspections.

Appointment of inspectors and assistant inspectors.

98. The Lieutenant-Governor may appoint in any labor district so many inspectors and assistant inspectors of laborers as he may think proper, and may define, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, the local limits within which each such inspector and assistant inspector shall exercise the powers and authorities conferred, and perform the duties imposed on him by this Act. Such inspectors and assistant inspectors may be by the said Lieutenant-Governor vested with all or any of the powers of a magistrate.

Establishment.

Duty of assistant inspector.

99. The Lieutenant-Governor may authorize inspectors and assistant inspectors to entertain such establishment as he may think fit. An assistant inspector shall perform all such duties and exercise all such powers of an inspector as he is authorized in writing by the inspector to perform or exercise.

Half-yearly report of laborers employed, of their state of health, and of mortality.

100. Every employer shall, on or before the last day of January and the last day of July in each and every year, make out in writing, and deliver to the inspector of laborers, a return of the number of all laborers (as well laborers defined by this Act as others) employed by such employer on the last day of the preceding month, and return of the sickness and mortality among the laborers during the preceding six months.

Separate returns of each class of laborers to be kept.

Such returns shall be kept separate with regard to each class of laborers as above mentioned, and, in the case of laborers as defined by this Act, the return of laborers employed shall specify the date on which the contract of each laborer commenced, and the period of service contracted for.

Copies to be kept.

Copies of such returns shall be entered in a book to be kept by the employer at his place of business or on his estate.

Entry to be made of death, desertion, &c.

101. If any laborer shall die, desert, complete his contract, or obtain a release therefrom during the six months preceding any such return as in the last preceding section is mentioned, the fact of such death, desertion, completion of contract, or release, shall be entered, in the book to be kept as aforesaid by the employer, opposite the name of such laborer.

Entry to be made of name and description of laborer.

102. On the arrival of any laborer, as defined by this Act, on the estate of his employer, the name and description of such laborer shall be entered in the book to be kept as aforesaid by the employer, and in like manner the name and description of every person, who shall contract to labor otherwise than under the provisions of this Act, shall be so entered. Such book shall be open to the inspector of laborers, who shall have power to muster all laborers and other persons lastly hereinbefore mentioned, and to verify the accuracy of the entries in such book.

Penalty for omission to furnish such report or for submitting false report.

103. If any employer shall refuse or wilfully omit duly to send in any such return, or shall knowingly send in an incorrect return, such employer shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Periodical inspection of laborers to be made by inspector.

104. Every inspector of laborers shall once within each of such periods as may be fixed for such purpose by the Lieutenant-Governor, visit all lands within the limits of his authority on which there shall be employed any laborers, and inspect every hospital, tent, camp, or building in any way used by any such laborers, and investigate the condition of the laborers employed; and for such purpose the inspector may require that any laborer shall be brought before him with his contract, and may make such inquiries as may to him seem proper. Every such inspector shall keep books, in which from time to time shall be entered the number of laborers then under contract with each employer, the number who shall then be sick or missing, or who shall have complained of ill-treatment, the particulars of such complaints, and such other particulars regarding the laborers as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time direct. Each inspector shall annually make a written report to the Lieutenant-Governor through the Commissioner of the division of the aforesaid particulars; and every such report, as regards the laborers under any particular employer, shall, at all reasonable times, be open to the inspection of such employer or any person by him appointed in writing in that behalf, and the person so inspecting shall be entitled to take a copy of the report so far as it relates to such laborers.

Books to be kept by inspector.

Annual report.

Such report open to inspection by employer.

Magistrate may at any time inspect laborers' buildings used by them, &c.

105. It shall be lawful for any magistrate exercising jurisdiction in the district, or any person authorized by him in writing in that behalf, at any time to enter and inspect any hospital, tent, camp, or building, wholly or partially used by or for laborers, and to require that any laborer shall be brought before him with his contract, and to make any inquiries which he may think proper touching the condition or treatment of any laborer.

Penalty for obstructing inspection or inquiry.

If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, wilfully obstructs or impedes any entry, inspection, or inquiry, made under either of the two preceding sections, such employer or other person as aforesaid shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for each such offence.

Chapter 14.—Offences committed by Laborers.

Penalty on laborer for absenting himself without sufficient cause.

121. Any laborer, who shall absent himself from his labor without sufficient cause, may, on conviction by a magistrate, be sentenced to lose all claims to wages or allowances during the period of such absence, and also to forfeit to his employer a sum not exceeding four annas for each day during which such absence shall be continued; and in case such absence shall have exceeded seven days, or in case such laborer shall have been already convicted of the same offence within a period of three months, such laborer shall be furthermore sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for fourteen days.

Deserting may be apprehended without warrant.

122. If any laborer deserts from his employer's service, and no magistrate is resident within ten miles of the place where such laborer may be found, such employer or any other person acting in his behalf may, without first procuring a warrant, and without the assistance of any police officer (who, nevertheless, shall be bound to give such assistance if called upon to do so), apprehend such laborer. Provided, nevertheless, that if such laborer be found in the service of another employer, he shall not be arrested without a warrant. Provided also that any person, who shall apprehend a laborer under the provisions of this section, shall without delay give the said laborer in charge at the nearest police station, and there enter the charge upon which he shall have apprehended such laborer.

To be taken to nearest magistrate.

Any laborer so given in charge shall be conveyed, without delay, to the nearest magistrate; and, if such magistrate be authorized to deal with the case, he shall himself adjudicate upon the charge; but if not, he shall forward the said laborer, under custody, to the magistrate or bench of magistrates authorized to deal with such case, who shall thereupon adjudicate upon such charge.

Procedure upon complaint of desertion.

Upon complaint made to a magistrate by an employer, or any person acting on his behalf, that a laborer has deserted from his employer's service, such magistrate may issue a summons for the attendance of such laborer, or a warrant for his arrest, and appoint a day for the hearing of the complaint without previously examining the complainant.

Punishment.

Every laborer who deserts from his employer's service shall on conviction be punished with rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one month; and every laborer, who after having been convicted of desertion, shall again desert from his employer's service, shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with rigorous imprisonment for a period which may extend to two months; and every laborer who, after having been twice convicted of desertion shall again desert shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, which may extend to three months.

Compensation for wrongful arrest.

If it appears to the magistrate or to the bench of magistrates adjudicating upon any such charge as is mentioned in this section, that such laborer has been apprehended or arrested without sufficient cause, it shall be lawful for such magistrate or bench of magistrates to impose a fine not exceeding fifty rupees on the employer, at whose instance such laborer has been apprehended or arrested, or to award compensation not exceeding fifty rupees to such laborer, and such compensation shall be paid by the employer at whose instance such laborer has been apprehended or arrested.

Conviction not to operate as a release.

123. On the expiry of any sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, save as is provided in section 124, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to make over such laborer to any person appointed on the part of his employer to receive charge of him; and no conviction under this Act, or imprisonment under such conviction, shall, save as is provided in section 124, be held to operate as a release to any laborer from the terms of his contract. Provided, nevertheless, that the period of imprisonment shall in no case be prolonged by reason of there being no person present on the part of the employer to take charge of the laborer at the expiry to his sentence; but such laborer shall in that case be sent to the principal place of business of such employer, and the expense of such conveyance shall be levied from the employer in the manner provided in section 96.

Cancellation of contract by desertion.

124. Whenever any laborer shall have actually suffered imprisonment amounting in the whole to six months for desertion from his employer's service, it shall be lawful for the inspector, and he is hereby required, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and every such cancellation shall be certified by the inspector on the back of the contract.

Portion of sentence may be cancelled on application of employer.

125. The employer, or any person authorized to act for the employer, of any laborer imprisoned for any offence under this Act, may apply to a magistrate, at any time previous to the expiry of such sentence, that such laborer be made over to him for the purpose of completing his contract; and such magistrate may, if he see good cause, make over or forward such laborer to his employer; and in that case such magistrate shall cancel the remainder of the sentence passed on him, and shall endorse on the contract of such laborer a memorandum signed by him of such cancellation.

Expense of restoring deserting laborer to be paid by employer.

126. Every employer who obtains an order for the return or forwarding of any laborer who has deserted, shall pay the expense incurred in such return or forwarding, and shall, before the order is issued, deposit with the magistrate such sum as such magistrate may in his discretion deem to be sufficient for defraying the expense of such return or forwarding.

Time of unlawful absence or imprisonment to be excluded from contract period.

127. The duration of every unlawful absence from labor, of which any laborer may be convicted, and every sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, shall be endorsed on the contract, at the time of its being passed, by the officer passing it; and no such period of imprisonment or unlawful absence so endorsed shall be reckoned as part of the term for which the laborer is bound to serve, but such term shall extend to such further period as shall be equivalent to the aggregate amount of the imprisonment and unlawful absence so endorsed.

Other person enticing away, harbouring, or employing laborer under contract.

128. Any person who knowingly and wilfully entices away, harbours, or employs, or attempts to entice from his employment, any laborer, before such laborer shall have been lawfully released from his contract, shall on conviction by a magistrate be punished with fine, the whole or any portion of which may be awarded to the employer of such laborer.

Chapter 15.—Complaints made by Laborers.

Employer to give notice to inspector if laborer wishes to complain of personal ill-usage or breach of contract.

129. If any laborer states to his employer, or to any person acting for such employer, that he desires to make a complaint to the inspector of laborers of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act on the part of such employer or other person, the person to whom such statement is made shall, within forty-eight hours, send notice thereof in writing to the inspectors and in default of so doing, such person shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Inspector how to proceed on receipt of notice, or if complaint is made to him, or if he has reason to believe that there is ground for a complaint.

130. Whenever any inspector of laborer receives such notice in writing as aforesaid, or whenever any complaint of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid, is made to him by any laborer against his employer or any person acting for such employer, or whenever the inspector has other reasonable grounds for believing that any such personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid has been suffered by a laborer, such inspector shall forthwith, if the place in which such offence has been committed is not situated within the limits of his own authority, give notice thereof in writing to the inspector within the limits of whose authority such place is situated; and if such place be situated within the limits of his own authority, then such inspector, shall, so soon as conveniently may be, proceed to some place not more than ten miles from the principal place of business of such employer, and make full inquiry into the matter complained of.

Procedure. Penalty for obstructing service of, or disobedience to, summons.

131. For the purposes of such inquiry the inspector may summon such laborer and any witnesses. If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, in any way wilfully obstructs the service of, or obedience to, such summons; or if the laborer or any witness summoned intentionally omits to attend as required in such summons, he shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

If complaint is untrue or frivolous.

132. If, upon such inquiry made on the complaint of a laborer, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is untrue or frivolous, he shall enter in his book the particulars of such complaint, and a short statement of the grounds of his opinion respecting it, and shall dismiss the complaint, and in such case shall endorse on the employer's copy of the contract of such complainant the number of days during which such complainant has been absent from work in consequence of such inquiry, and such number of days shall be added to the period of the contract of such complainant.

If complaint is well founded.

133. If, upon inquiry as aforesaid, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is well-founded, he shall, if himself a magistrate, dispose of the case according to due course of law. If the inspector shall not be a magistrate, he shall without delay send the complainant and his witnesses to the nearest magistrate, and such magistrate shall thereupon dispose of the case according to due course of law.

Recovery of arrears of wages.

134. If, upon the complaint of any laborer, it is proved to the satisfaction of a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear for two months, it shall be lawful for the magistrate to award to such laborer the amount which shall appear to be then due to him; and also, by way of compensation, such further sum, not exceeding that amount, as shall appear to such magistrate to be just; and in case of default, the magistrate shall levy the entire sum by distress and sale of any moveable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer.

Compensation may be given if arrear is for two months.

Contract may be declared cancelled, if employer is convicted of maltreatment by session court, or twice by magistrate; or if wages are in arrear for four months; or if ill-usage is proved.

135. If any employer, or any person placed in authority over any laborer by such employer, shall be convicted of any offence causing injury to the person or property of such laborer triable under the Code of Criminal Procedure by the court of session; or if any such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall be twice convicted of any such offence against such laborer triable under the said Code by a magistrate; or if it shall be proved before a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such laborer's wages for four months; or if a magistrate shall, on the report of the inspector and after due inquiry, upon oath, in the presence of the parties, be satisfied that any aborer has been compelled to perform any labor while he was unfit for it, or has been subjected to ill-usage by such employer, or any other person placed in authority over the laborer by such employer; it shall be lawful for the magistrate, if he think fit, on the application of the laborer, in each of such cases, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and award to him compensation not exceeding thirty rupees and every such cancelment shall be certified by the magistrate on the back of such contract.

Laborer may appear before the inspector to register completion of contract.

136. Every laborer who has completed the term of his contract shall be forthwith entitled to appear before the inspector or assistant inspector in order that the completion of his contract may be registered.

Penalty if employer detains, or omits to report.

If an employer detains such laborer after the completion of his contract, or fails to give notice of such completion to the inspector within one month after the date of such completion, such employer shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

137. If any laborer is able and desirous to redeem the unexpired term of his contract of service by payment of a sum equivalent to the value thereof, such laborer may demand to be taken or allowed to go before the inspector of laborers within the local limits of whose authority he may be employed, and on his depositing such sum in the hands of such inspector, such inspector shall give notice to the employer that such laborer requires him within one week to show cause why the contract of such laborer should not be released; and, in case no sufficient cause should be shown, such inspector shall require the production of the contract of such laborer, and endorse thereon a certificate of release by purchase, and shall hold the sum in deposit on account of the employer of such laborer. If any employer, or other person authorized to act for the employer, shall neglect to comply with such demand as aforesaid, such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Power to redeem contract.

The value of the unexpired term of contract shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of one rupee for every month of the unexpired portion of the first year, of three rupees for every such month of the second year, and of five rupees for every such month of the third year, of the original term of the laborer's engagement.

Value of unexpired term of contract.

138. Every laborer the period of whose contract has expired, or whose contract has been rescinded by the mutual consent of the parties thereto, or whose contract has been cancelled or redeemed under the provisions of this Act, shall be entitled to receive forthwith from the inspector a certificate of release in the form set forth in schedule (F) annexed to this Act.

Certificate to be given of determination of contract.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Eighth Publication.]

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon in a month :—

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and whereas it is expedient that Registrars of such marriages and divorces should be recognised and licensed by the Local Government, it is enacted as follows :—

1. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to issue a license to any person being a Mahomedan, either by name or as holding any office for the time being, authorising him to act as Registrar of Mahomedan marriages and divorces.

2. Such licenses may be given on the recommendation of the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta, of the Commissioner of Police, to any member of any Mahomedan sect who can show that he is usually resorted to as a professional witness in such cases by his co-religionists, or that he has practised the duties of Kazi, and that he is well versed in Mahomedan law, provided always that satisfactory evidence is produced of his being a person of good moral character.

3. No Mahomedan marriage or divorce which would otherwise be valid shall be held to be invalid merely by reason of its not having been registered before a Registrar licensed under this Act.

4. Each licensed Registrar under this Act shall keep a Register Book in a form to be laid down by the Local Government in which he shall enter all marriages and divorces,—the parties to which shall desire to have them so registered. He shall also, if requested at the time, give an extract of any entry affecting them to either of the parties to such entry.

5. The entry of any marriage or divorce in the Register Book shall be signed by the Registrar, and signed, sealed, or marked by the persons married or divorced, and shall be attested by at least two credible witnesses who were present at the ceremony, and every such entry shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book, and any extract of any entry given to the parties shall be numbered to correspond with the number of the entry in the Register Book, and shall be authenticated by signature of the Registrar.

6. The Registrar shall keep safely the said Register Book until the same shall be filled, and shall then, or if he shall leave the district, make over the same to the District Registrar of Assurances for safe custody.

7. Any Registrar who shall discover any error to have been committed in the form or substance of any such entry may, within one month next after the discovery of such error, in the presence of the parties married, or divorced, or in case of their death or absence, in the presence of two other credible witnesses, who shall respectively attest the same, correct the erroneous entry according to the truth of the case by entry in the margin without any alteration of the original entry, and shall sign the marginal entry, and add thereunto the day of the month and year when such correction shall be made, and shall if possible give or cause to be delivered a corrected copy of the extract to the parties to the original entry.

8. Every Registrar shall at all reasonable times, and on the payment of such fees as may be agreed upon, search or permit search to be made in any such Register Books, and shall give a copy under his hand of any entry or entries in the same.

9. Every certified extract of any entry in any Register Book purporting to be signed by the licensed Registrar, shall be received as evidence of the marriage or divorce purporting to be so entered or of the facts purporting to be so certified therein, without further proof of such Register Book or extract, unless and until the genuineness of such entry or extract or the truth of the facts set out in it be disproved.

10. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or injure or cause to be destroyed or injured any such Register Book or any part thereof, or any such authenticated extract as aforesaid, or shall wilfully insert or cause to be inserted any false entry in any such Register Book or authenticated extract, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

11. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up rules and prescribe forms for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and to charge a fee not exceeding Rs. 2 for each license granted under the Act, provided always that no rule shall be laid down to interfere with the taking by any licensed Registrar from the parties to any marriage or divorce of any fee, which custom or his position may entitle him to demand.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of the Government has for some time past been drawn to the increasing number of offences against marriage shown in the criminal returns, especially in the eastern and Mahomedan districts. The remarkably small number of convictions obtained in such cases taken together with their increasing numbers, seemed to indicate the existence of a grievance which the Criminal Courts are at present unable to redress. Inquiry has proved that this is in fact the case. The loose notions regarding the marriage tie prevalent among the lower orders of Mahomedans lead to the frequent institution of criminal charges, while the absence of any authorized system of registration of marriage and divorce (since the office of Kazi ceased to be recognized by law) makes it difficult to furnish the amount of proof which the Criminal Courts require to warrant their taking action.

It appears to the Government that the legal recognition of an authorized system of registering Mahomedan marriages and divorces will go far to supply the existing want, and this Bill provides such a system. The Registrar will, as regards such registration, take the place which was filled by the old Kazis, and certified copies of extracts from his register are made primâ facie proof of the facts recited therein. But the registration of marriages and divorces is left optional with the parties concerned, and all questions of remuneration are left to be settled between the Registrar and the parties who avail themselves of his services.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.—FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

MINT AND CURRENCY.

Fort William, the 12th December 1873.

Read—

Letter from the Comptroller General, No. 5019, dated 24th September 1873, suggesting that the Accountant-General, [illegible] be authorized to break up and sell as old copper the Alumshah pice which formed [illegible] remittance made from the Calcutta to the Kangra treasury, and also suggesting that worn out pice may be similarly treated.

RESOLUTION.—The Honorable the President in Council observes that if the Government Treasury in Calcutta had been in the charge of an officer of the Government, it would have been his duty, before sending copper coin into the interior, to have had every bag carefully examined, in order to the withdrawal of all coin issued before Act XXI of 1835 came into force, as well as of all coin issued under that or subsequent Acts which showed any considerable signs of wear.

2. This duty must be held to devolve upon the presidency banks whenever they act as bankers for the Government.

3. The President in Council does not doubt that these institutions will cordially co-operate with the Government in measures for maintaining the quality of the copper coinage. The banks should accordingly be requested, while freely receiving all copper coin, however greatly worn, that bears any trace of Government mintage, to take effective steps to prevent the payment to the public, whether in the course of their own business or on Government account, of any copper coin that has not previously been examined in detail and found fit for reissue.

4. Similar measures should be taken at every Government Treasury.

5. The Currency Department already assists in maintaining the quality of the copper coin in circulation by issuing good coin in exchange for silver. The exchange of picked for worn coin in small quantities should also be undertaken by the department.

ORDERED that a copy of the foregoing Resolution be forwarded for information and guidance to the local Governments, the Head Commissioner of Paper Currency, the Mint Master, Calcutta, the Comptroller-General, the Secretary and Treasurer to the Bank of Bengal, the several Accountants-General and the several Deputy Accountants-General in independent charge. The Governments of Madras and Bombay should communicate these orders to the presidency banks of Madras and Bombay.

REMITTANCE TO ENGLAND ON THE PUBLIC SERVICE NOT TO BE MADE BY PRIVATE BILLS.

No. 3263.

RESOLUTION.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA—FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

ACCOUNTS.

Fort William, the 27th November 1873.

THE Governor-General in Council observes that not unfrequently the local Governments, or even individual public officers, remit money to England for public purposes by private bills.

2. Such a practice is altogether irregular, and it should cease without exception.

3. No money should be paid in England on account of the public service in India except through the Secretary of State, whether that service be chargeable to imperial, provincial, or local funds.

4. Nor, ordinarily, ought there to be any direct transactions, on the public service, between officers or authorities in India and firms or persons in England, which entail payment of money to the latter; for, as a rule, books or stores obtained from England have to be procured through the Secretary of State for India, and in the cases where the strict rules on this head are observed there can be no occasion for remittances from India.

5. When a remittance to England on the public service is necessary, it should in no case be made by private bills, but invariably through the Government of India, who will arrange for the payment of the money by the Secretary of State for India, and for the settlement of the loss by exchange if the remittance be on account of a foreign administration, or for a local fund, &c.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be sent to the several Secretariats of the Government of India, to the local Governments and Administrations, the Comptroller-General, the Accountants-General, the Deputy Accountants-General in independent charge, the Director-General of the Post Office, and the Mint Master.

If he shall be a subject of the High Contracting Party who claims him, the surrender shall be made to it. If he be not so, the other High Contracting Party shall have the power of delivering him up to the reclaiming Government which in the case in question may appear to the former best entitled to the preference.

ARTICLE IX.

A requisition for extradition shall be made through the respective Diplomatic Agents of the High Contracting Powers.

When it relates to a person accused only, it must be accompanied by the warrant of arrest, issued by the competent authority of the State applying for it, and by such evidence as according to the laws of the place where the accused is found, would justify the arrest if the crime was there committed.

If the extradition refers to a person already convicted, the application must be accompanied by a copy of the sentence of condemnation, passed against him, given by a competent Tribunal of the State making the requisition.

The requisition cannot, however, be founded on a sentence passed in contumaciam, that is to say, when the delinquent has not been personally cited to defend himself.

ARTICLE X.

If the requisition has been in conformity with the foregoing stipulations, the competent authorities of the State to which it has been addressed shall proceed to the capture of the refugee. The prisoner shall be brought before a competent authority, who is to examine him and conduct the preliminary investigations of the case just as if the apprehension had taken place for crime committed in the same country.

ARTICLE XI.

The extradition shall in no case take place before the expiration of fifteen days counted from the apprehension, and after that delay it shall only be carried out when the evidence has been found sufficient according to the laws of the country applied to, either for subjecting the prisoner to trial if the crime had been there committed, or to prove the identity of the person convicted and condemned by the Tribunals of the State making the requisition.

Esta estipulação não é applicavel aos crimes commettidos depois da extradição.

ARTIGO VIII.

Si o individuo cuja extradição uma das Altas Partes Contractantes pedir, for igualmente reclamado por outro ou outros Governos, em consequencia de crimes commettidos nos seus respectivos territorios, observar-se ha o seguinte:

ARTIGO IX.

A requisição para a extradição será feita por intermedio dos respectivos Agents Diplomaticos das Altas Partes Contractantes.

Si ella referir-se a um individuo sómente accusado, devrá ser acompanhada do mandado de prisão expedido pela auctoridade competente do Estado que a solicitar, e de provas que segundo as leis do logar onde o accusado for encontrado justificassem a captura quando o crime fosse ahi commettido.

Si a extradição referir-se a um individuo já sentenciado, o pedido deverá ser acompanhado do traslado da sentença condemnatoria expedida contra elle pelo Tribunal competente do Estado que fizer a requisição.

A reclamação não pode porem ser fundada em sentença proferida in contumaciam, isto é, quando o reo não for pessoalmente citado para defender-se.

ARTIGO X.

Si a requisição estiver de conformidade com as anteriores estipulações, a auctoridade competente do Estado a que ella se tiver dirigido procederá á captura do refugiado. O preso será levado á presença da auctoridade competente que terá de examinal-o, e de dirigir as investigações preliminares do cazo como si a captura fosse effeituada por crime commettido no mesmo paiz.

ARTIGO XI.

A extradição nunca terá logar antes da expiração de 15 dias contados da captura, e depois d'esse prazo só se effeituará quando as provas forem julgadas sufficientes segundo as leis do paiz á que for pedida, ou seja para sujeitar o preso á processo si o crime fosse ahi commettido, ou seja para justificar a identidade da pessoa convicta e condemnada pelos tribunaes do Estado que fez a requisição.

ARTIGO XII.

Nos exames á que se tiver de proceder de conformidade com as precedentes estipulações, as authorities of the State to which application is made, shall admit as valid evidence the sworn depositions or declarations of witnesses, which were taken in the other State, or the respective copies thereof as well as the judicial documents, warrants, or sentences, transmitted therefrom, provided they are signed or certified by the hand of the judge, magistrate, or public officer of that State, and authenticated, either by the oath of some witness, or by the official seal of the Minister of Justice or some other Minister of State.

ARTICLE XIII.

If within two months counting from the date of arrest sufficient evidence for the extradition shall not have been presented, the person arrested shall be set at liberty. He shall likewise be set at liberty if, within two months of the day on which he was placed at the disposal of the Diplomatic Agent, he shall not have been sent off to the reclaiming country.

ARTICLE XIV.

All the articles found in the possession of the person demanded, at the time of his apprehension, shall be seized in order to their delivery with him, when his extradition shall take place.

This delivery shall not be limited to effects or articles robbed, stolen, or obtained by other crimes, but shall extend to all that might serve as evidence of the crime; it shall be made even when the extradition could not be made after orders to that effect, on account of the flight or death of the person claimed.

ARTICLE XV.

The High Contracting Parties renounce whatever claims they may have for the reimbursement of the expenses incurred for the apprehension and maintenance of the persons to be delivered up, and for their conveyance until they shall be placed on board ship, as they agree to defray these outgoings in their respective countries.

ARTICLE XVI.

The requisition for the surrender shall be made to the Governor, or to the chief authority in the Colony or Possession, by the highest Consular Agent of Brazil.

The surrender shall be made by the Governor or the chief authority, who shall, however, have the power either to make it or to refer the matter to his Government.

Both in the requisitions and in the surrender, the conditions established by the foregoing Articles of this Treaty shall be, as far as may be possible, adhered to.

As Her Britannic Majesty has the power to adopt special arrangements in the Colonies and possessions, respecting the delivering up of delinquents, Her Majesty will facilitate the reclamations of Brazil in this respect, as far as may be possible, with due regard, however, to the provisions of this Treaty.

ARTICLE XVII.

ARTIGO XIII.

Si dentro de dous mezes contados da data da captura, não forem apresentadas provas sufficientes para que se realise a extradição, o preso será posto em liberdade. The Undersigned, Plenipotentiaries of Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of His Majesty the Emperor of Brazil, charged with making a Treaty for the extradition of criminals, upon which they have at this present agreed, having met in conference, took into their consideration the following subjects:—

They directed their attention to the fact that the criminal law of England punishes the crime of infanticide with the same penalty as that of murder, when accompanied by corresponding circumstances, and that it results therefrom that extradition should take place even for attempting to commit that crime.

On the other hand, they observed, that according to the Brazilian law, infanticide is not punished as murder, nor even as manslaughter, but as a crime distinct from both, and by a minor punishment, and that consequently extradition should not take place for the attempt.

They consequently resolved to declare that extradition shall solely take place for the crime of infanticide, and not for an attempt to commit that crime.

With this declaration they agreed to close this conference, from which the present Protocol emanates, which being found in conformity, was signed, each having a copy thereof.

Done in the city of Rio de Janeiro, the thirteenth day of November of 1872.

Reunidos em conferencia os Plenipotenciarios de Sua Magestade a Rainha do Reino Unido da Grã Bretanha e Irlanda, e de Sua Magestade o Imperador do Brazil, abaixo assignados, encarregados de ajustar um Tractado de extradição de delinquentes, em que nesta data accordarão, tomarão em consideração a siguinte materia:

Ponderou-se que a lei criminal Ingleza pune o crime de infanticidio com a mesma pena do crime de murder, quando acompanhado das circumstancias deste, e que dahi resulta ter lugar a extradição mesmo por tentativa.

Por outro lado ponderou-se que segundo a lei Brasileira, o infanticidio não é punido como o homicidio sujeito á pena de morte, nem mesmo como homicidio, sim como crime distincto d'elles, e com pena menor, e que consequentemente não deve ter lugar a extradição por tentativa.

Resolverão pois declarar que a extradição só poderá verificar-se pelo crime de infanticidio, e não pela tentativa d'elle.

Com esta declaração entenderão terminar esta conferencia, da qual se lavrou o presente Protocollo, que depois de achar-se conforme foi assignado, ficando cada um com o seu exemplar.

Feito na Corte do Rio de Janeiro aos treze dias de Novembro de 1872.

And whereas the ratifications of the said Treaty were exchanged at Rio de Janeiro on the twenty-eighth day of August last:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, and in virtue of the authority committed to Her by the said recited Act, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the first day of December one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, the said Act shall apply in the case of the said Treaty with the Emperor of Brazil.

RESOLUTION.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 6th January 1874.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has to invite the special attention of officers of Government, and of all others concerned with the transport of laborers to the north-eastern tea districts and their employment there, to the new Act VII (B.C.) of 1873 for amending the law relating to that subject, and for regulating contract labor and service in Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet.

2. One of the important changes made by this Act, to which particular attention must be drawn, is that by which time-expired coolies are no longer subject to the ordinary provisions of the Act. A laborer subject to the provisions of the Act is defined in Section 2 to mean any emigrant who has been conveyed to a labor district in accordance with a contract made under the provisions of Bengal Act III of 1863, Bengal Act VI of 1865, Bengal Act II of 1870, or this Act, during the duration of such contract, and no longer.

3. The door is also opened by Section 7 to a new class of free laborers under contracts for terms not exceeding one year, who also, after their arrival in the labor districts, will not be subject to the ordinary provisions of the Act.

4. Employers, however, must not overlook the fact that under Sections 100-103 they must enter in their books and returns all persons employed on their gardens, whether they are laborers as defined in the Act or not, distinguishing between each class of laborers; and Inspectors have power to muster both classes of coolies to verify the books and returns. This is a matter of much importance, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that Inspectors will take immediate steps to introduce the classification of laborers required in the books and returns, and see that managers of gardens are made aware of their obligations. Inspectors must also habitually use their power to muster and distinguish the two classes, and see that it is fully understood which are bound by the provisions of the Act, and which are free laborers serving under ordinary contracts, or as monthly or daily laborers who are not liable to be dealt with, seized or punished, otherwise than under the ordinary law.

5. It will be observed that under Section 122 employers can arrest a deserting laborer without warrant and without the assistance of a police officer, only if no Magistrate is resident within 10 miles of the place where such a laborer may be found. The Lieutenant-Governor stated in Council his wish, which he now repeats, that efforts should be made to establish in places remote from the regular head-quarters of districts and sub-divisions, magisterial Benches which should dispose of such cases. A selected planter and a trustworthy native, such as a mouzadar or other qualified resident, might sit together as Honorary Magistrates, or Benches might be otherwise fairly constituted with powers which would admit of repeal and revision by the Deputy Commissioner. Deputy Commissioners are requested to consider, and submit at an early date, proposals for giving effect to this suggestion. By the 3rd clause of Section 122, a form of procedure more summary than the ordinary is permitted in desertion cases. But again it must not be overlooked, in dealing with these cases, that under the last clause of Section 122 laborers apprehended or arrested without sufficient cause are entitled to compensation.

6. Employers using garden sirdars to recruit laborers will not fail to observe that under Section 20 each laborer must be registered before the Magistrate of the district or of the division of the district within which the engagement was made, or through which he shall first pass on the road to his destination.

7. Magistrates of districts on the route to Assam or Cachar should notice, with reference to Section 72, that the power to stop batches of emigrants proceeding otherwise than in vessels carrying more than 20 persons has been taken away. As regards vessels liable to inspection, the duty must be done properly and thoroughly, but not so as to cause any unnecessary delay. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that, if all is right and in order, there will be no more delay caused to licensed vessels than is absolutely necessary. It is a great object to make the voyage as short as possible.

8. By comparing Sections 76 and 78, it will be seen that a distinction is made between contract emigrants detained for treatment or otherwise for their own benefit, and non-contract emigrants who can only be detained if their proceeding endangers the health of others. There is no special provision in the law for recovering expenses incurred on behalf of the latter class. They must be kept by the sirdar in charge, or, if they are paupers, must be dealt with like any other pauper in charitable dispensaries.

9. Special attention is required to the new Sections 118-120 regarding unhealthy localities. It will be seen that a great improvement has been made on the indefiniteness of the old law.

10. Attention should be given to the new forms appended to the Act, which should be brought into use at once.

11. The character of the embarkation agent's functions must also not be overlooked by the medical officer at Goalundo, who will perform the functions of embarkation agent and medical inspector at that place. An "emigrant" is any person who has engaged to go to a labor district, whether under the Act or not, and by Section 67 an emigrant not under the Act cannot be embarked on a vessel carrying more than twenty persons without a pass from the embarkation agent, which the agent will give only after being satisfied that the emigrant has no serious contagious disease or anything else making him disagreeable and dangerous to others. Beyond this, however, the embarkation agent is not to interfere with free emigrants.

12. Generally, the Lieutenant-Governor would remark that the free labor clauses of the Act mainly depend for their efficacy on the facilities given for free emigration, and those again mainly depend on roads, steamers, and appliances. The Government is making through roads from the western districts to Doobree, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that, as far as Doobree on one side and Chuttuck on the other, there will be no difficulty after a little time. The local officers must at once set themselves to consider the lines of communication beyond those points, from Doobree to Goalparah, Gowhatty, and Upper Assam, and from Chuttuck to Sylhet and Cachar, and possibly by Shillong to Assam, reporting on the subject fully.

NOTIFICATION.

The 30th December 1873.—The period of one month having elapsed since the publication of the plan of lighting certain specified streets of the town of Howrah with gas in the Calcutta Gazette of the 26th November, and no objections having been raised to it, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to notify his sanction to the plan, and, in accordance with the provisions of Section 2, Act V of 1873 of the Bengal Council, to publish it hereby for general information :—

Under the provisions of Section 2 of Act V (B. C.) of 1873, the following plan for the future lighting of that area of the town of Howrah which is at present lighted with gas is hereby published for general information by order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

PLAN.

1. The portion of the town which is lighted is bounded as follows :—

On the north by Hurrogunge Road, on the south by Ramkistopore Ghaut Road, on the east by the River Hooghly, and on the west by the Grand Trunk Road. A map of this portion is herewith submitted, on which is shown in blue lines the streets which are lighted, and in red lines those which the Commissioners propose to light on receipt of His Honor's sanction.

2. The following are the names of the streets and the number of lamps in each at present lighted, as also the names of the streets proposed to be lighted and the number of lamps in each.

Names of the streets and the number of lamps in each at present lighted.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Grand Trunk Road | .. .. 52 | Brought forward | .. 114 |
| Ramkistopore Ghaut Road | .. 7 | Ghoosery Road | .. .. 4 |
| Telkul Ghaut Road | .. .. 12 | Golabaree Road | .. .. 8 |
| Avenue Road | .. .. 7 | Baptist Burial Ground Road | .. 9 |
| Church Road | .. .. 5 | New Street | .. .. 1 |
| Chandmarree Road | .. .. 8 | Ross Road | .. .. 4 |
| Tindal Garden Road | .. .. 9 | Seal's New Lane | .. .. 2 |
| Lall Diggee Road | .. .. 4 | Hurrogunge Road | .. .. 12 |
| King's Road | .. .. 4 | Howrah Road | .. .. 44 |
| Rosemarree Lane | .. .. 3 | Howrah Ghaut Road | .. .. 3 |
| Salt Gola Lane | .. .. 3 | | |
| Carried over | .. 114 | Total | .. 201 |

Names of the streets and the number of lamps in each proposed to be lighted.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Khetter Mitter's Lane | .. .. 10 | Brought forward | .. 33 |
| Watkins' Lane | .. .. 5 | Mackenzie's Lane | .. .. 2 |
| Dobson's Lane | .. .. 15 | Ticcaparrah and Jelleaparrah Lane | .. 4 |
| Strand Road | .. .. 3 | | |

3. It will be observed from the map* that when the last named streets are lighted, all the public roads within the portion of the town described in paragraph 2 will be lighted; that is to say, all the highways which are vested in the Commissioners, and over which they have control.

* Vide note deposited in the Bengal Office.

4. The outlay in erecting the lamps at present lighted, numbering 201, was Rs. 10,628, and the estimated cost of erecting the 39 lamps which are required to complete the lighted area is Rs. 2,437-8.

5. The cost of erecting the existing lamps was met from general funds, and the Commissioners propose to pay for the erection of the extra lamps from the saving which will be effected in the allotment for lighting charges for the months of January, February, and March next. This of course is calculated on the principle that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will be pleased to authorize the Commissioners to levy the rate from the 4th quarter of the current year 1873-74, viz. January to March 1874, the Commissioners, on their part, undertaking that the extra lamps shall be ready for lighting from 1st January.

6. The cost of lighting the 240 lamps will be Rs. 24,000 per annum. To this cost the Commissioners are bound by the existing contract with the Gas Company, from which they have no escape. The contract has still 18 years to run. To this is to be added a sum of Rs. 1,200 for contingent charges of repairs to lamps, making a total of Rs. 25,200 per annum.

7. The total valuation of buildings and lands situated within the area is Rs. 8,72,867. A rate of 3 per cent. on this valuation would yield Rs. 26,186 per annum, and if from this sum a deduction is made of, say, Rs. 486 on account of collection charges, there would remain a net income of Rs. 25,700, which would cover the expenses of lighting and maintaining the lamps within the portion of the town in which it is proposed to levy the rate for the present.

HIGH COURT, ENGLISH DEPARTMENT, Criminal.

IN continuation of Circular Order No. 10, dated 27th August 1873, the Court is pleased, at the request of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, under instructions from the Government of India, to direct that in all cases where the accused is a soldier or person holding any rank in the Army, the warrant for detention or imprisonment shall set forth accurately the rank of the prisoner and the Regiment or Military Department to which he belongs.

No. 2997, dated Fort William, the 14th November 1873.

RESOLUTION by the Government of India, Financial Department.

IN consequence of the failure of the autumn rice crop throughout a large part of the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, there is reason to fear that there may be a large expenditure of money for the relief of distress, and a serious loss of revenue.

2. The Viceroy and Governor-General accordingly deems it necessary to invite the attention of Local Governments and Chiefs of Departments to the imperative necessity that is laid upon the Government and its officers for the immediate curtailment of all expenditure that can be reduced, postponed, or dispensed with. The scarcity in Bengal may cause a considerable strain on the general resources of the State, and expenditure that would be proper under ordinary circumstances would be out of place now.

3. His Excellency desires that each officer will take immediate steps to stop any expenditure in the present year that can be prevented, and that all estimates of charge for the coming year, 1874-75, may be reconsidered and reduced to the utmost possible extent.

4. No increase of expense should for the present be suggested that can by any means be avoided.

5. The Viceroy and Governor-General is confident that officers of the Government will recognize the necessity for these instructions, and he looks for their loyal co-operation in giving effect to them.

RESOLUTION—(Statistical Department) of the Government of Bengal, Calcutta, dated the 21st November 1873.

READ—

A Resolution of the Government of India in the Financial Department, No. 2997, dated the 14th November 1873, inviting the attention of this Government to the imperative necessity of immediate curtailment of all expenditure that can be reduced in consequence of the large expenditure of money and loss of revenue which may arise from the threatened failure of crops in Bengal.

In circulating these orders to all Heads of Departments and to Commissioners of Divisions, the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that every possible endeavour will be made by Heads of Departments to curtail expenditure as far as possible. At the same time His Honor desires that the following projects and undertakings may be postponed :—

(1) Experimental projects in the Opium Department.
(2) Chittagong settlement undertaking.
(3) Orissa field survey.
(4) Avoidable expenditure in jails.
(5) Nepaul boundary verification for the present year.
(6) The field survey in Behar, if the Irrigation Department see no objection.

2. With regard to the first project, the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad if the Member in charge would issue orders after consulting the Agents as to the experimental schemes which can be foregone without jeopardizing the revenue.

Notice

Is hereby given that in consequence of the construction of the new road from Giridi on the Karharbari Branch of the East Indian Railway to Hazaribaugh, all goods can most conveniently be sent to Hazaribaugh by that route instead of by the railway to Barakar only. The undersigned therefore invites all Government officers, tradesmen and other gentlemen who may not be specially instructed to the contrary by their consignees, and who do not avail themselves of the Government parcel post, to send their consignments and goods to the care of the Station Master, Giridi.

This request is made as the transport agency has been removed from the Barakar, and the route by Giridi is shorter and less expensive.

HAZARIBAUGH, the 9th December 1873. HENRY BEADON, Offg. Dy. Commissioner.

Emigrants to be inspected by medical inspector immediately on arrival.

53. The copy of the registration and the medical certificate of every emigrant received by the superintendent as provided in section 45 shall be shown to the medical inspector; and all emigrants shall be inspected by the medical inspector at the depôt. Emigrant rejected by medical inspector to be sent back.

54. If the medical inspector shall certify that any emigrant so examined is in such a state of health that his journey to a labor district would be dangerous to himself or to others, or that he is unfit for labor in a labor district, the superintendent may order the contractor, or the garden-sirdar, if such emigrant has been forwarded or brought to the depôt by a garden-sirdar, to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged. Provided that any such person, who, from his state of health is, in the opinion of the medical inspector, unfit to undertake the journey back to the place where he was engaged, shall, until he is reported by the medical inspector fit to undertake such journey, be fed, clothed, lodged, and medically attended at the expense of such contractor, or of such garden-sirdar, as the case may be. If such contractor or garden-sirdar negligently or wilfully omits to provide food, clothing, lodging and medical attendance for such person, the superintendent may order such contractor or garden-sirdar to pay to him a sum of money by way of compensation.

Family of detained emigrant may remain with him.

55. Whenever an emigrant remains behind or is detained under the provisions of the last preceding section, it shall be optional with the wife or husband of such emigrant, as the case may be to remain with the emigrant so remaining behind or detained. If there are any children, they shall also be allowed to remain behind with the father or mother.

Emigrant ill-treated during journey may obtain compensation.

56. If upon the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, it shall appear to the superintendent of emigration on the complaint of such emigrant, that he has suffered any ill-treatment on the journey, or that the recruiter or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, has failed to provide him with proper and sufficient food and lodging, the superintendent may cause him to be removed from the depôt, and may order the contractor or garden-sirdar, for or by whom he shall have been taken to such depôt, to pay to him a sum of money by way of compensation, or sufficient to enable him to return to the place at which he was engaged, and in such latter case he shall not be bound to execute any contract.

Every fine levied under the provisions of this section shall be paid to the contractor or garden-sirdar on whose behalf or by whom the person from whom such fine shall have been levied was originally registered.

59. If within thirty days after the arrival of any emigrant at a depôt, the contractor, or, if he has been engaged by a garden-sirdar, the garden-sirdar on whose behalf or by whom such emigrant has been registered, shall not tender to him for execution such contract as under the provisions of the preceding sections he would be bound to execute, the superintendent may order the contractor or the garden-sirdar, as the case may be, to pay to him a sum of money sufficient to enable him to return to the place where he was engaged, and in such case such emigrant shall not be bound to execute any contract.

Money ordered to be paid by superintendent may be advanced by him and recovered.

60. If any contractor or garden-sirdar who may be ordered, under the provisions of sections 54, 56, and 59, to pay any sum of money, shall for twenty-four hours omit to comply with such order, it shall be lawful for the superintendent to advance the amount so ordered to be paid to the person named in such order, and to recover from such contractor or garden-sirdar, or his employer, the sum so advanced, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date of such advance.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Ninth Publication.]

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon in a month :—

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and whereas it is expedient that Registrars of such marriages and divorces should be recognised and licensed by the Local Government, it is enacted as follows :—

1. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to issue a license to any person being a Mahomedan, either by name or as holding any office for the time being, authorising him to act as Registrar of Mahomedan marriages and divorces.

2. Such licenses may be given on the recommendation of the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta, of the Commissioner of Police, to any member of any Mahomedan sect who can show that he is usually resorted to as a professional witness in such cases by his co-religionists, or that he has practised the duties of Kazi, and that he is well versed in Mahomedan law, provided always that satisfactory evidence is produced of his being a person of good moral character.

3. No Mahomedan marriage or divorce which would otherwise be valid shall be held to be invalid merely by reason of its not having been registered before a Registrar licensed under this Act.

4. Each licensed Registrar under this Act shall keep a Register Book in a form to be laid down by the Local Government in which he shall enter all marriages and divorces,—the parties to which shall desire to have them so registered. He shall also, if requested at the time, give an extract of any entry affecting them to either of the parties to such entry.

5. The entry of any marriage or divorce in the Register Book shall be signed by the Registrar, and signed, sealed, or marked by the persons married or divorced, and shall be attested by at least two credible witnesses who were present at the ceremony, and every such entry shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book, and any extract of any entry given to the parties shall be numbered to correspond with the number of the entry in the Register Book, and shall be authenticated by signature of the Registrar.

6. The Registrar shall keep safely the said Register Book until the same shall be filled, and shall then, or if he shall leave the district, make over the same to the District Registrar of Assurances for safe custody.

7. Any Registrar who shall discover any error to have been committed in the form or substance of any such entry may, within one month next after the discovery of such error, in the presence of the parties married, or divorced, or in case of their death or absence, in the presence of two other credible witnesses, who shall respectively

attest the same, correct the erroneous entry according to the truth of the case by entry in the margin without any alteration of the original entry, and shall sign the marginal entry, and add thereunto the day of the month and year when such correction shall be made, and shall if possible give or cause to be delivered a corrected copy of the extract to the parties to the original entry.

8. Every Registrar shall at all reasonable times, and on the payment of such fees as may be agreed upon, search or permit search to be made in any such Register Books, and shall give a copy under his hand of any entry or entries in the same.

9. Every certified extract of any entry in any Register Book purporting to be signed by the licensed Registrar, shall be received as evidence of the marriage or divorce purporting to be so entered or of the facts purporting to be so certified therein, without further proof of such Register Book or extract, unless and until the genuineness of such entry or extract or the truth of the facts set out in it be disproved.

10. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or injure or cause to be destroyed or injured any such Register Book or any part thereof, or any such authenticated extract as aforesaid, or shall wilfully insert or cause to be inserted any false entry in any such Register Book or authenticated extract, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

11. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up rules and prescribe forms for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and to charge a fee not exceeding Rs. 2 for each license granted under the Act, provided always that no rule shall be laid down to interfere with the taking by any licensed Registrar from the parties to any marriage or divorce of any fee, which custom or his position may entitle him to demand.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of the Government has for some time past been drawn to the increasing number of offences against marriage shown in the criminal returns, especially in the eastern and Mahomedan districts. The remarkably small number of convictions obtained in such cases taken together with their increasing numbers, seemed to indicate the existence of a grievance which the Criminal Courts are at present unable to redress. Inquiry has proved that this is in fact the case. The loose notions regarding the marriage tie prevalent among the lower orders of Mahomedans lead to the frequent institution of criminal charges, while the absence of any authorized system of registration of marriage and divorce (since the office of Kazi ceased to be recognized by law) makes it difficult to furnish the amount of proof which the Criminal Courts require to warrant their taking action.

It appears to the Government that the legal recognition of an authorized system of registering Mahomedan marriages and divorces will go far to supply the existing want, and this Bill provides such a system. The Registrar will, as regards such registration, take the place which was filled by the old Kazis, and certified copies of extracts from his register are made primâ facie proof of the facts recited therein. But the registration of marriages and divorces is left optional with the parties concerned, and all questions of remuneration are left to be settled between the Registrar and the parties who avail themselves of his services.

13. In this Act, 'section' means section of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

When a Court inferior to a Court of Session sentences an accused person to whipping, the new Code of Criminal Procedure, section 302, paragraph 4, is so framed as to render it necessary to send him, for the execution of the sentence, to the jail of the district in which the trial is held. The result is (as the Panjab Government has pointed out) that Magistrates at out-stations and places distant from any jail are now practically prohibited from inflicting sentences of whipping. The primary object of the present Bill is to amend the provision in question so as to make it apply to such sentences only when passed by the Court of Session or the High Court. This amendment is effected by clause 8.

2. The opportunity has been taken to make certain other amendments of the Code, which seem either necessary or highly expedient. This may be shortly stated as follows:

3. Clause 2 of the Bill proposes to insert, after section 64 of the Code, a new section empowering the Government of India to transfer cases from any Criminal Court to any other Criminal Court in British India of equal or superior jurisdiction, or to order that any offence shall be enquired into or tried in any district other than that in which the offence has been committed. This power is expressly made exercisable only where it appears that the transfer or order will promote the ends of justice, or tend to the general convenience of the parties or witnesses. A somewhat similar provision was contained in the repealed Bengal Regulation XVI of 1810, section 3, and reference may be made to the power to change the venue conferred by 33 Vic., c. 9, section 29.

4. Section 272 of the Code declares that the rules of limitation shall not apply to appeals against acquittals prescribed under that section. This provision was doubtless intended only to get rid of the very short limit fixed by Act IX of 1871, but it leaves the right of appeal by the Crown without limit, and clause 3 of the Bill proposes to fix a period of one year within which such appeals must be brought.

5. The last four words of the second clause of section 274 ("and in addition thereto") are meaningless when considered with the context. They clearly were intended to be "and not in addition thereto." Clause 4 makes this amendment.

6. The Bombay High Court has lately held that, in rejecting an appeal under section 278, the Appellate Court has no power to enhance the sentence. The Bill, clause 5, adopts this ruling.

7. Section 296 is incomplete, and might be held to authorize any Session Judge or Magistrate who considers that an accused person has been improperly discharged, to direct him to be committed for an offence with which he had not been charged. Clause 6 therefore (in accordance with the ruling of Phear, J., in Regina v. Tarucknath Mookerjee, 10 Bengal Law Reports 285) declares that the committal must be for trial upon the matter of which the accused has been improperly discharged.

8. Sections 37 and 295 have given rise to doubts as to the meaning of the expression "any Subordinate Court" in section 298, as to directing inquiries into complaints dismissed under section 147. The Bill (here following the second paragraph of section 295) declares that, for the purposes of section 298, any Magistrate in a Sessions Division shall be deemed to be subordinate to the Session Judge of the Division.

9. The object of clause 8 has already been explained in the first paragraph of this Statement.

10. Section 330 empowers the Court of Session and the High Court to issue commissions, for the examination of absent witnesses, to the Magistrate of the District or a Magistrate of the first class in whose jurisdiction the witnesses may be. But the section omits to provide for the case of witnesses in the Presidency towns, and it also fails to say what shall be done with the commission when it has been executed. Clause 9 of the Bill amends these defects.

11. A question has been raised as to whether, when a person committed before a Court of Session appears to be insane, the trial of the fact of his insanity is or is not part of his trial before the Court, and whether, therefore, the fact in question is or is not to be determined by a jury, or with the aid of assessors. Clause 10 of the Bill (following the ruling of Phear, J., in Regina v. Bheekoo Kalwar, 10 Bengal Law Reports App. 10) decides this question in the affirmative.

12. The last paragraph of section 464 enacts that "no error or defect in any judgment shall invalidate the proceedings." The intention of the legislature was of course to confine the operation of this clause to merely formal errors and defects. Clause 12 of the Bill expresses this clearly.

13. The remaining clauses explain themselves.

No. 3750.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,—FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

ACCOUNTS.

Fort William, the 17th December 1873.

Read again—

Financial Resolution No. 842, dated 7th February 1873, prescribing revised forms of certificates to be attached to contingent bills.

Read also the undermentioned communications from the Governments of Bombay and Bengal, suggesting, for reasons stated, an alteration in the form of disbursing officer's certificates:—

Bombay letter No. 3097-159F, dated 21st August 1873.
Bengal " No. 2806, dated 18th September 1873.

RESOLUTION.—The disbursing officer referred to in the Resolution of the 7th February 1873 is the officer who draws a bill for contingent charges and is responsible for the due disbursement of the amount.

A disbursing officer may be left to deal with vouchers for items not exceeding Rs. 10, attaching to his contingent bill a certificate in the following form in lieu of that prescribed in the orders of 7th February 1873:—

"I certify that the expenditure charged in this bill could not, with due regard to the interests of the "public service, be avoided. I have satisfied myself that the charges entered in this bill have been really "paid. Vouchers for all sums above Rs. 10 in amount are attached to the bill. I have, as far as possible, "obtained vouchers for smaller sums, and am personally responsible that they have been so destroyed that "they cannot be used again."

When the bill of a disbursing officer is countersigned, vouchers for sums above Rs. 10 and not exceeding Rs. 100 shall be examined, cancelled, and retained in the office of the countersigning officer, as directed in the orders of 7th February 1873.

Accordingly, for the certificate prescribed for the countersigning officer in those orders, the following shall be substituted:—

"I certify that in support of every charge of more than Rs. 10 made in this bill, a receipt or other "voucher in proper form has been given to me and is now in my possession. The receipts and vouchers for "items in excess of Rs. 100 are attached to the bill, and I am personally responsible that the receipts and "vouchers for all other items of more than Rs 10 are in proper form and order, and that they have been so "cancelled that they cannot again be used to support claims against the Government."

A district officer need not personally give the certificate required from a disbursing officer. With the sanction of the Commissioner, or, in the Madras Presidency, of the Board of Revenue, he may delegate the duty to one of his gazetted subordinates.

A register of contingent expenditure should be kept in each office, and the initials of the head of the office should be entered against the date of the payment of each item.

The Governor-General in Council expects that every public officer will exercise the same vigilance in respect to petty contingent expenses that he would do if he were spending his own money.

H. L. DAMPIER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.—FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

MINT AND CURRENCY.

Read—

Letter from the Comptoller-General, No. 5019, dated 24th September 1873, suggesting that the Accountant General, Punjab, may be authorized to break up and sell as old copper the Alumshah pice which formed part of a remittance made from the Calcutta to the Kangra treasury, and also suggesting that worn-out pice may be similarly treated.

RESOLUTION.—The Honorable the President in Council observes that if the Government Treasury in Calcutta had been in the charge of an officer of the Government, it would have been his duty, before sending copper coin into the interior, to have had every bag carefully examined, in order to the withdrawal of all coin issued before Act XXI of 1835 came into force, as well as of all coin issued under that or subsequent Acts which showed any considerable signs of wear.

2. This duty must be held to devolve upon the presidency banks whenever they act as bankers for the Government.

3. The President in Council does not doubt that these institutions will cordially co-operate with the Government in measures for maintaining the quality of the copper coinage. The banks should accordingly be requested, while freely receiving all copper coin, however greatly worn, that bears any trace of Government mintage, to take effective steps to prevent the payment to the public, whether in the course of their own business or on Government account, of any copper coin that has not previously been examined in detail and found fit for reissue.

4. Similar measures should be taken at every Government Treasury.

5. The Currency Department already assists in maintaining the quality of the copper coin in circulation by issuing good coin in exchange for silver. The exchange of picked for worn coin in small quantities should also be undertaken by the department.

ORDERED that a copy of the foregoing Resolution be forwarded for information and guidance to the Local Governments, the Head Commissioner of Paper Currency, the Mint Master, Calcutta, the Comptroller-General, the Secretary and Treasurer to the Bank of Bengal, the several Accountants-General and the several Deputy Accountants-General in independent charge. The Governments of Madras and Bombay should communicate these orders to the presidency banks of Madras and Bombay.

5. Superintendents of Emigration at all other places than Calcutta, Embarkation Agents, and Medical Inspectors shall submit, as early as possible after the close of each official year, a report reviewing all the operations of the previous official year connected with the recruitment and transport of emigrants within the local limits of their respective jurisdictions, to the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta, who thereafter shall submit to Government his annual report for the same period, based not only on the information available in his own office, but also on that furnished by the aforesaid officers in their respective reports, and treating of the following points, viz. the management and condition of the depôts licensed under the Act; the conduct of recruitment; the sickness and mortality amongst emigrants whilst in depôt; the result of the medical examination of emigrants in depôt prior to their being passed as laborers for the tea districts; the number of emigrants forwarded to the tea districts; the results of the passage thereto with special reference to mortality; and such other matters as ought to be brought to the notice of Government.

Duties of Superintendent of Emigration.

9. Depôts shall be under the supervision of the Superintendent of Emigration, and shall be licensed only when their site and internal arrangements have been approved by him and the Medical Inspector.

10. All reasonable orders of the Superintendent and the Medical Inspector shall be carried out by the contractors and their employés, on pain of cancelment of license.

11. The Superintendent or his assistant shall visit the depôts constantly, and see that the provisions of the Act are fully carried out in the case of all emigrants and their accompanying dependents entering the depôts, and that their prospects and engagements are understood by them.

Duties of Medical Inspectors and other medical officers.

12. The sanitary state of the depôts shall be the special care of the Medical Inspector. He shall visit the depôts constantly, and see that all necessary precautions are taken against communicable disease, that the hospital and other medical arrangements at the depôts are sufficient, and that all emigrants unprotected against small-pox are duly vaccinated, and generally, that the depôt arrangements are medically satisfactory.

13. A resident medical officer, to be licensed by the Medical Inspector, shall be appointed by the contractor to each depôt. He shall be paid by the contractor, but be directly responsible to the Medical Inspector, who will give him written instructions for his guidance. He shall not be dismissed without the Medical Inspector's consent, and his name shall be registered in the Superintendent's office. He shall keep a medical diary in a form to be prescribed by the Medical Inspector, and shall, besides his other duties, assist in making out the monthly returns of sickness and mortality.

14. No medical officer shall be allowed to proceed in charge of emigrants to the labor districts until he shall have obtained a license from the Medical Inspector; and in the case of vessels carrying 200 emigrants and upwards no such license shall be given to any person who is not a licentiate in medicine, or declared qualified for such charge by order of the Lieutenant-Governor. All such officers shall be subordinate to the Medical Inspector, must obey his orders and directions, and keep such diaries and make such returns as he or the Superintendent may prescribe.

What contractors have to provide at depôts.

15. The site of the depôt shall be cleared, levelled, and drained, and all exposed wells, tanks, &c., properly fenced in and protected from surface drainage, if necessary, by the construction of masonry drains.

16. Sleeping-sheds, distinct from cooking-sheds, shall be provided with raised machans, or wooden platforms, high enough to admit of the floor below being easily cleaned; and mats shall be supplied in all cases where the platforms are not wooden.

17. Air and light shall be admitted freely through large doors, windows, and open spaces sheltered by the eaves, especially when walls are mud-plastered; and movable jhamps shall be fitted to doors and windows.

18. Every sleeping-shed shall be licensed to accommodate emigrants at the uniform rate of not less than 14 superficial feet of space to each statute adult.

19. Cooking-sheds, with fire-places or choolas arranged in an orderly row, shall have mud-plastered walls, and, if possible, tiled roofs; and a proper receptacle for kitchen refuse, rice-water, &c., shall be provided.

20. Separate hospitals for ordinary and contagious cases, and separate wards for male and female patients, shall be provided. The wards shall be dry, well-raised, thoroughly ventilated, well-lighted, and furnished with wooden or iron cots.

21. A dispensary, with accommodation for the resident medical officer of the depôt, shall be placed in a convenient situation, and provided with such necessary fittings and furniture as the Medical Inspector may direct.

22. A plentiful supply of good water for drinking, cooking, and washing, shall be always provided. In Calcutta depôts, water for drinking and cooking shall be obtained from the municipal hydrants, and carefully stored, in sufficient quantity, in clean iron tanks fitted with covers and taps.

23. Privies shall be separately provided for males and females, be properly roofed, and thoroughly well ventilated and lighted. They shall be placed in an accessible position, to be approved of by the Superintendent. The plan of the latrine, and the system adopted for the daily removal of night-soil and other refuse matter, shall be subject to the approval of the Medical Inspector.

Other duties of contractors.

24. If the contractor does not himself live on his depôt premises, he shall appoint a proper person as his agent, who shall reside there constantly and conduct the business on the contractor's responsibility. Every such agent shall be registered in the Superintendent's office.

25. Any offence against the rules committed by a contractor or his agent at Goalundo, or at any other place of embarkation, shall affect such contractor in the same way as though it had been committed at Calcutta.

26. Every contractor shall explain to his recruiters the nature of the duties entrusted to them, and furnish them with passes (Section 39) and with license and descriptive forms (Section 38), the latter being correctly filled in and signed by the contractor; and also with copies of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873, and written applications to the Superintendent for recruiting licenses.

27. Contractors shall insist on their recruiters and writers being accurate in all that they enter when filling in registration, embarkation, and other lists and forms. Names, ages, birth-places, &c., shall be correctly given throughout; and contractors or their agents shall furnish their recruiters with blank forms and copies of any orders that may be necessary under the Act and rules.

28. At each depôt there shall be kept a visiting book in which the Superintendent and Medical Inspector shall enter their orders and the dates of their visits.

29. Depôt gates shall be in charge of a durwan, and shall be open from 6 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Procedure on arrival of emigrants at depôt and thereafter.

30. On arrival of emigrants at the depôt, they shall be inspected by the contractor or his agent and by the resident medical officer; their names shall be entered in the depôt register, and their arrival reported in the forenoon of the next day to the Superintendent.

31. The contractor shall ascertain that those sections of the Act that provide for the registration, proper care, and treatment of emigrants previous to their entering the depôt, have been complied with; and shall immediately detain and report any recruiter, garden-sirdar, or other person in charge who may be found to have infringed the law.

32. The contractor directly, or through his agent, shall be responsible for the good treatment and care of the emigrants, and shall obey the instructions of the Medical Inspector, to whom especially he shall be responsible for the sanitary state of the depôt, and the feeding, clothing, and medical treatment of its inmates.

33. Excepting those whose state of health may prevent it, all emigrants shall be compelled to bathe on their arrival in depôt, and their cast-off ragged clothes shall be gathered and destroyed at once.

34. All emigrants, especially women, shall be decently and cleanly clothed, according to the scale laid down; and every article (clothing, blankets, &c.), whether new or old, that is soiled or smells offensively, shall be thoroughly washed and dried before it is issued.

35. The emigrants shall be called out daily at 5 A. M. in the hot season, and at 7 A. M. in the cold season. A muster-roll shall be called, and the resident medical officer, after careful examination, shall enter the names of the sick in his diary, which shall be countersigned by the contractor.

36. Neither cooking, feeding, nor smoking shall be permitted in the sleeping-sheds, which shall be kept very clean and well ventilated.

37. Certain hours, to be fixed from time to time by the Superintendent, shall be set apart for cooking and feeding; and no cooking shall be allowed at any other time, except for invalids; nor in any place except the cooking-sheds, where emigrants may feed and smoke also.

38. Meals shall be punctually issued according to the scale sanctioned for use on steamers, &c., and shall be examined by the resident medical officer before being served out; and, when necessary, food suitable for motherless infants and invalids (fresh milk, soup, sago, &c.,) shall be freshly prepared and regularly supplied throughout the twenty-four hours. Any neglect of infants or invalids on the part of the contractor, or resident medical officer, will render them, such contractor or medical officer, liable to withdrawal of license.

39. After meals the cooking-sheds shall be carefully swept out by the laborers, and all cooking utensils be thoroughly cleaned by the cooks; no stale food shall be retained either in the vessels or by the emigrants: the resident medical officer and cooks shall see to this daily.

40. Excepting the hospital, privies, drains, and receptacles for kitchen and other filth, which must be kept constantly cleaned by the mehters, every part of the depôt, the garden, sheds, feeding utensils, clothing, &c., shall be kept clean and in good order by the emigrants, who shall be regularly and healthfully employed, short of fatigue, and be as much as possible in the open air. Gardening should be encouraged.

41. The sheds, hospitals, privies, drains, &c., shall be constantly looked after, and any defects be immediately remedied. Mud-plastered walls shall be whitewashed once a month.

42. Emigrants shall wash their clothes at least twice a week when possible, and shall bathe daily at a fixed time. A liberal supply of soap shall be provided always.

43. They shall be compelled to dust out and air their clothes and blankets daily, and shall not be allowed to remain in damp clothes.

44. Emigrants shall not be permitted to wash their clothes or persons in tanks, the water of which is used for drinking purposes; a separate tank shall be selected for the purpose.

45. Excreta from the hospital or privies, and filth of any description, shall not be buried within at least 1,000 feet of any source of drinking water; nor be thrown into stagnant pools and nullahs which may happen to be unavoidably near the depôts.

46. The chuprassees on duty shall be constantly about the depôt preserving order and cleanliness everywhere, especially when cooking, feeding, and inspections are conducted. They shall see that no jungle or rubbish is permitted to accumulate in the depôt compound, that the space under and around the sleeping sheds, hospitals, &c., are kept clean, and that the mehters do their work regularly.

47. Excepting the lights in the dispensary or hospital and the durwan's room, all lights and fires shall be put out by 9 o'clock P. M.

48. The emigrants shall be properly distributed at night in their sleeping sheds according to the number each shed is licensed to accommodate, and be prevented from crowding together.

Outbreaks of sickness in depôt.

49. The contractor or his agent shall immediately report the arrival or occurrence in depôt of any case of cholera or small-pox to the Medical Inspector.

50. He shall not send sick emigrants to any other than the depôt hospital; nor remove them from there, nor from the depôt, without the written permission of the Medical Inspector.

Vaccination.

51. He shall arrange with the Superintendent-General of Vaccination for the vaccination of all persons in the depôt who are unprotected from small-pox.

52. Clothing, blankets, mats, &c., that have been in contact with communicable disease (e.g., small-pox or cholera), hospital dressings, foul rags, and all combustible filth, shall be regularly and thoroughly burnt in a safe and suitable place, and in the presence of the resident medical officer.

Detention in depôt.

53. Emigrants shall invariably be detained at least four days in the Calcutta depôts; but they shall not be detained, without being put on contract, longer than thirty days: and monthly returns of emigrants in depôt shall be forwarded by the contractor to the Superintendent.

54. Emigrants in depôt, for whom the contractor fails to provide contracts within thirty days of their arrival at the depôt, shall be returned without delay, through the Superintendent's office, to the places where they were engaged, at the expense of the contractor, unless they, in his presence, agree to accept release on the spot. All disqualified emigrants also shall be dealt with in the same manner, excepting those suffering from sickness, who shall not be forwarded until they are cured, or are in a fit state to travel.

Emigrants engaged in batches of less than 20 by garden-sirdars.

55. If emigrants recruited by garden-sirdars, under the provisions of Sections 19 to 32 of the Act, are brought to a depôt, they shall be subject in all respects, save as regards the execution of their contracts, to the provisions of these rules respecting emigrants recruited on behalf of contractors. They shall obey all the depôt rules, and be subject to all the inspections that other emigrants undergo. Separate lists shall, however, be kept of the members of each such gang, and of its dependents.

Preparations for despatch to labor districts.

56. Every contractor preparing to despatch emigrants to Assam, Cachar, or Sylhet, shall ascertain whether others purpose doing so by the same opportunity or at the same time; and shall, in communication with them and the steam agents concerned, and subject to the Superintendent's approval, fix the dates of despatch from Calcutta and arrange accordingly, allowing ample time for the discharge of all duties connected with the transport of laborers under the Act.

57. No emigrants shall be despatched from a depôt in which cholera has appeared, until the Medical Inspector has satisfied himself after a due period of observation that the disease has ceased.

58. If the total number of emigrants and dependents to be despatched exceed fifty souls, and there be no medical officer appointed under Section 70 to the charge of the emigrants on the vessel conveying them, a medical officer shall be nominated to go in charge of them. He shall procure a license from the Medical Inspector.

59. When the employer or his agent has noted the emigrants selected by him in the certificate of health, a written application for a final medical inspection shall be sent to the Medical Inspector at least two days before the date of despatch from Calcutta. The medical officer, if any, who is to accompany the emigrants, shall be present at the final inspection by the Medical Inspector, and if satisfied with the condition of the emigrants made over to him, shall sign certificates to that effect.

60. Notice shall be sent at least one day before the date of despatch to the Superintendent, who shall place the emigrants on contract.

61. When the emigrants are assembled before the Superintendent to have their contracts explained, they shall have their copies of register in their hands, and their blankets, clothing, and utensils, according to scale, arranged beside them all ready for inspection.

62. The contractor shall be responsible for making all necessary provision to ensure the health, safety, and comfort of emigrants during transit. He shall supply provisions, clothing, medical stores, attendants, &c., according to the prescribed scales, and furnish all forms, registers, lists, &c., correctly filled in up to date of embarkation. Any neglect or carelessness will subject him to withdrawal of his license.

63. The Superintendent or his assistant, and the contractor or his agent, shall be present at every despatch of emigrants, and their stores, &c., by train, steamers, or boats, of which the contractor shall give early notice to the Superintendent or his assistant.

64. Previous to every despatch, either by land or water, the emigrants shall be provided with a cooked meal.

65. Provisions, and the establishment of cooks, peons, topasos, may precede or accompany, but shall never follow the emigrants on their way to the place of embarkation.

66. A medical officer and medical stores shall accompany them throughout the journey from Calcutta, if more than 50 go together at one time. For small batches, the sirdar or agent in charge should be provided with a few common medicines.

Transit by train.

67. Every provision shall be made for sudden cases of illness during transit. Doolies or other suitable means of conveyance shall be always in readiness at the railway station and place of embarkation.

68. Any emigrant suddenly taken ill at the railway station shall, in company with his or her dependents if they desire it, be sent to the depôt hospital in charge of a trustworthy peon, who shall deliver the patient, his contract, and all his clothes, blankets, utensils, &c. (according to scale), to the resident medical officer of the depôt, who shall give the peon a receipt.

69. The emigrants with the medical officer or agent in charge shall be at the railway station fully half an hour before the train starts, and all shall be safely in their places at least five minutes before the train moves.

70. In the carriages, emigrants shall be allowed at least four superficial feet of space to each adult, and there shall under no circumstances be more than sixty adults to each carriage.

71. In Calcutta good drinking water from the municipal pipes shall be supplied in a sufficient number of covered jars conveniently placed with the emigrants in each carriage.

72. It shall be arranged between the medical officer or agent and the railway guard in charge, that those who desire to get out of the train at any intermediate watering station, where time and weather permit, shall be allowed to do so, but that they shall be safely in their places fully five minutes before the train starts, and all shall be warned against attempting to get in or out of the carriages while in motion.

73. The contractor or agent, immediately on arriving at the Sealdah Station, shall send a telegram to the contractor's agent at the place of embarkation, reporting the intended despatch of emigrants, and ordering a cooked meal to be prepared against their arrival.

74. If the train journey be likely to occupy more than six hours, a supply of biscuits and sugar shall be distributed to the emigrants before they leave Calcutta, in the proportion of two biscuits and an ounce of sugar to each statute adult; and the doctor or agent in charge shall, under any circumstances, provide milk for infants, or young children that require it, during the journey.

Notice to Embarkation Agent.

75. The contractor's agent at the place of embarkation shall immediately on receipt of the telegram from Calcutta forward it for information to the Government Embarkation Agent.

76. The contractor or his agent shall send samples of the stores to be shipped with the emigrants for the approval of the Embarkation Agent, in time to admit of their being carefully examined before the final survey of stores on board.

Duties of Embarkation Agent and Medical Inspector at place of embarkation.

77. The Medical Inspector at Goalundo shall see that the embarkation depôts are kept in proper order, and shall exercise the same powers in respect of them that the Superintendent of Emigration and Medical Inspector have in Calcutta, reporting for the Superintendent's information any failure of contractors or their employés to attend to his orders.

78. An "emigrant" is any person who has engaged to go to a labor district, whether under the Act or not, and under Section 67 an emigrant not under the Act cannot be embarked on a vessel carrying more than twenty persons without a pass from the Embarkation Agent, which the Agent will give only after being satisfied that the emigrant has no serious contagious disease or anything else making him disagreeable and dangerous to others. Beyond this, however, the Embarkation Agent is not to interfere with free emigrants.

Survey of vessels and stores.

79. Every vessel for which a license is required under Section 62 of the Act, shall be surveyed by the Embarkation Agent, to whom written application for survey shall be made by the master.

80. (a.) Primary survey is necessary, unless a vessel has been recently licensed for a former trip.

The deck space intended for laborers shall be cleared and shown to the Embarkation Agent, who, if he approve of it and the general fitness of the vessel, shall ascertain by measurement how many statute adults may be accommodated, after which the fittings prescribed shall be provided.

81. (b.) When the fittings are completed, and the provisions on board carefully weighed and arranged for examination on deck according to their order in the provision list, the Embarkation Agent shall make a final survey of fittings and stores.

82. On receipt of the application for final survey, the Embarkation Agent shall communicate, if necessary, with the Medical Inspector, and with the doctor or agent going in charge, who shall be present at the survey.

83. If the batch is unusually large or there is much sickness, the Medical Inspector shall be consulted as to the propriety of sending additional medical aid, or an extra hospital boat.

84. The Embarkation Agent shall see that the fittings and stores are good and according to scale; and the Medical Inspector shall satisfy himself that the sanitary arrangements, hospital accommodation, and medical stores are also good and in accordance with what is prescribed.

85. A special examination shall be made by the Medical Inspector of any vessel in which much sickness has occurred on the voyage immediately preceding: and license may be refused unless the master carry out such measures of disinfection, deck-caulking, &c., as the Medical Inspector may think necessary. If a vessel is found to be habitually unhealthy for emigrants license shall be refused her.

86. If laborers are to be despatched in boats, an intelligent head manjee shall be selected by common consent of the others and appointed by the Embarkation Agent to exert general control over them in keeping the boats together, preserving order, and assisting the doctor or sirdars during the voyage. But it shall be distinctly understood by all that the appointment of a head manjee does not in the least degree lessen the responsibility of each individual manjee. Under the law each one shall be personally liable for every offence or neglect of duty.

87. After everything has been examined and approved of, the master or manjee, and the doctor or sirdar in charge, shall sign the provision lists; and when the Superintendent is satisfied that all is correct, and that the master of the steamer, or head manjee in charge of the flotilla, has a copy of the Act and rules, he shall license the vessels.

Rules for survey of steamers and boats.

(a.)—General Rules.

89. Exclusive of hospital space, gangways, ventilating hatches, space for crew and attendants, and —on boats—for rowing and bailing out, properly sheltered deck space shall be provided on board steamers, flats, and boats at the rate of twelve superficial feet to each statute adult during the months of November, December, and January, and of fourteen superficial feet for the rest of the year. Every infant also shall be allowed deck space, in the proportion of one-half of that which is prescribed for a statute adult.

90. Hospital space shall be provided for five per cent. of the total number of statute adults to be carried; but such space shall be allotted at double the rate allowed for healthy adults, viz. 24 or 28 superficial feet to each statute adult, according to season; making reasonable allowance for space occupied by medical stores, &c.

91. It shall be ascertained that the term for which the engineer's and shipwright surveyor's certificates were granted has not expired.

92. No steamer shall be licensed except on condition that on the occurrence of serious sickness the flats will be towed astern, or that a proper hospital boat will be lashed alongside, or, best of all, that the entire upper deck of a flat—measured and licensed for the purpose—will be devoted to the use of the sick emigrants.

93. No steamer of doubtful power shall be permitted to tow two flats, especially during the months of June, July, August, September, and October, unless the master furnish a certificate of her power to the Embarkation Agent, who, if the result prove unsatisfactory, shall refuse a license for two flats on the next occasion; and any master who has been found evading the rules shall not be licensed again.

94. All fittings, &c., shall be provided entirely on board that vessel which is to convey the emigrants to their destination; but if necessary, and with the Medical Inspector's consent, the hospital may be furnished on an upper deck of the adjoining flat or steamer, if it accompany for the entire journey.

95. All roofs must be strong, water-tight, and, if of corrugated iron, properly thatched or lined with matting, &c., as a protection against heat.

96. Outside, and enclosing the space for emigrants, there shall be (a) a good canvas curtain hanging from roof to deck, with a ventilating space under the eaves above, but fastening, when down, closely to the deck below; (b) a boarding one foot high, rising from the plank-sheer of the vessel; (c) a rope or wire netting, or a strong bamboo trellis-work, from plank to rail above.

97. Iron water tanks, with covers and taps, or a hand-pump complete, shall be placed conveniently and filled with the best water available—if in Calcutta, from the municipal hydrants—for the exclusive use of the emigrants.

98. One or two fire-proof cabooses, fitted inside with brick and plaster to accommodate the full number of boilers, according to scale, shall be firmly secured in the after-part of the vessel.

99. Privies, with canvas screens in front, shall be securely fitted as far aft as possible, and at some distance from the deck space for emigrants, their drinking water, and cooking places, &c.

100. There shall never be less than two distinct privies on board of any vessel, and the accommodation in this respect shall be according to such scale and after such pattern as the Embarkation Agent shall, from time to time, direct. Separate privies shall be provided for females, and on the opposite side of the deck to those for the males.

101. Two wash-deck tubs kept filled with water shall be placed near the privies; one for males, and the other for females.

102. A well-protected space for washing and bathing in shall be provided, and furnished with a canvas screen for women.

103. All dangerously exposed places near hatches, ladders, bathing-places, privies, communication and landing stages, shall be properly railed in.

104. Embarkation, landing, and all communicating stages likely to be used by emigrants shall be at least three feet wide, well fastened, and provided with hand rails; this shall be always remembered when emigrants are to be embarked or landed.

105. The lower end of the funnel and other heated parts near the deck space for emigrants shall be enclosed with matting, wood, or other non-conducting material, to the height of four or five feet.

106. The space for emigrants shall be protected also against spray from the paddle-wheels; otherwise space opposite the paddle-boxes on both sides of steamers, and on one side of a flat (if to be lashed alongside), shall not be measured for emigrants.

107. A secure place under lock and key shall be provided for the stores; the vegetables shall be hung up in convenient places, but not out of sight; and bamboos shall be fastened, fore and aft, along the central stanchions, near the emigrants' deck space, so that the emigrants may hang up their bundles and blankets for the day.

108. Horses, pigs, and other animals, shall not be allowed on the same deck with the emigrants unless a space of 20 feet in breadth intervene; and the animals shall be kept clean and secured. Sheep pens shall be fitted. Vicious animals shall not be allowed on the same vessel with the emigrants.

109. Two life buoys shall hang over or near the stern of every vessel, and the boats should be in good order.

110. A good canvas screen shall be furnished to divide off hospital space, which shall be provided on the upper deck of a flat or steamer.

111. Lanterns shall be hung up in their places ready for use.

112. They shall be of moderate and uniform size, strong, water-tight, and provided with side windows and movable jhamps, machan, or plank decks, masts, sails, oars, &c., all in good order.

113. No temporary addition to the size of the roof shall be allowed as a plea for carrying more persons than the boat was originally intended to accommodate, unless there be ample space, and the added part is in every respect as good as the rest.

114. All bamboo machan decks shall be matted.

115. All boats selected for the service shall be marked and numbered (stencilled in paint) thus on the bow, stern, or other prominent parts; and the mark and number shall be entered in the boat's license.

116. A good wide boat shall be selected exclusively for a hospital; it shall be particularly well ventilated, fitted with a plank deck, and subject to the same general conditions as the rest of the boats.

117. If the batch be large, and one moderate-sized boat prove insufficient, a second boat shall be provided. Two boats are preferable to one large one, and may be ordered by the Medical Inspector if there be risk of excessive sickness.

118. The medical officer in charge and medical stores shall always be on or near the hospital boat, which shall be distinguished from the rest by a red flag; and a call for the medical officer shall be signified by waving a white cloth. The Embarkation Agent shall see that some simple means of rapid communication is understood by all before they start. If the batch exceed 100 statute adults, a separate dispensary or medical officer's boat shall be provided, if necessary; it shall be small and swift.

119. The strongest and driest boats, lined with dunnage, should be selected for the conveyance of the stores, and the manjees of these boats shall sign the provision lists together with the medical officer or agent in charge.

120. There shall be a good lantern to each boat.

Procedure at embarkation.

121. Masters of steamers and manjees in charge of boats (conjointly with medical officers or sirdars) are to be considered in charge of the laborers, and their stores; they shall be required to sign provision and embarkation lists, and their responsibility is in no way lessened by the official inspections.

122. They shall prepare crew and passenger lists, and—excepting those specified in the license, and cabin passengers' servants—no native passengers shall be allowed on board the same vessel with the emigrants, or on the same deck with them, if they occupy only the upper deck of a double-decked steamer or flat.

123. Masters shall see that the deck space for emigrants is clear, clean, and dry, and that ladders, stages, &c., are safely secured and railed.

124. During embarkation, all traffic, unless carried on by means of a separate stage and gangway, and every kind of work interfering with embarkation, shall be stopped.

125. Two men shall be stationed at the gangway, one to count and the other to keep a careful tally of the total number of emigrants (men, women, and children, including infants,) as they come on board, one by one, in answer to their names.

126. Emigrants shall not be received on board unless everything is perfectly ready and the vessels prepared to start, when notice shall be sent to the Embarkation Agent.

127. The Embarkation Agent and Medical Inspector (or, if the batch be small, a competent assistant deputed by them), the contractor or his agent, and the doctor or sirdar going in charge, shall be present at every embarkation of emigrants exceeding twenty statute adults in number.

128. They shall not embark without the permission of the Embarkation Agent, except under stress of weather, when they shall be mustered and examined under shelter on board.

129. The emigrants with their passes, &c., divided into batches and gangs under their peons and sirdars, shall be called on board by name, one at a time, and identified with those on the embarkation list.

130. Any emigrant taken ill and unfit to go shall be detained and sent to the depôt hospital.

131. When all are on board, the embarkation stage shall be removed, and the establishment of peons, sirdars, and topasses shall be mustered in order to see that they are present according to scale. Then all lists, certificates, &c., shall be carefully corrected, signed, and delivered; after which the vessels shall leave as speedily as possible, the Embarkation Agent or his assistant remaining at the ghât till they start.

132. As soon as possible after the vessels leave, the Embarkation Agent shall forward to the Superintendent at Calcutta correct copies of embarkation, provision, and establishment lists, and shall return (corrected up to date of embarkation) the certificates of health of the emigrants despatched.

Rules for the passage.

133. Masters of vessels and medical officers or sirdars, shall be conjointly responsible for the care and good treatment of the emigrants during the passage.

134. Masters and manjees shall render all the assistance in their power to the doctor or sirdar in charge.

135. As soon after the embarkation as possible, the emigrants shall be comfortably berthed, and their bundles again searched for any indigestible food, grain, or old rags they may have contrived to take with them, all of which shall be thrown overboard. This is a point that requires repeated attention.

136. Peons and sirdars shall obey the instructions of the master and doctor, and shall immediately report any defects, pilfering of stores, neglect of duty, cases of sickness, and disagreements affecting the emigrants, to the doctor or master, who shall attend to the case as soon as possible.

137. Peons and sirdars shall have their day and night duties fairly divided and clearly defined. When there are sick in hospital, peons, sirdars, and topases shall be deputed to hospital duty, so that the sick may constantly be cared for, and the attendants regularly relieved by others in rotation. Careful night-nursing of the sick shall be attended to.

138. The emigrants' deck space shall not be encroached upon in any way; and neither crew nor passengers shall be permitted to interfere with the emigrants.

139. The emigrants shall rise early, and after dusting their blankets shall fold and sling them up out of the way.

140. Weather permitting, the side curtains (or jhamps on board boats) shall be raised, and free ventilation ensured in every way.

141. The emigrants shall be mustered every morning, and examined by the medical officer. Those who are well shall bathe daily, and wash their clothes at least twice a week.

142 Emigrants (who are, as a rule, utterly unable to manage a bucket in a running stream) shall not be allowed to draw water for themselves; otherwise accidents are sure to follow.

143. The decks shall be dry holy-stoned by the emigrants daily, but washed only when weather, time, and other circumstances permit; the emigrants shall be landed, or accommodated on another deck till their deck is thoroughly dry.

144. Emigrants' clothes, mats, and blankets shall be aired and put in the sun as often as possible, especially after damp weather.

145. They may be permitted, with the consent of the medical officer in charge, to assist in coaling, or other labor unattended by any risk and short of fatigue. They shall always be encouraged to occupy and amuse themselves.

146. The masters of steamers and flats and medical officers in charge shall strictly prohibit all coolies or other native passengers from crossing over from one vessel to the other; and with this object shall not permit communicating stages between the vessels to be placed where they favor such intercourse. It will be necessary constantly to watch such communicating stages. The neglect of this prevention may propagate disease and lead to accidents.

147. Emigrants shall not be allowed finally to leave any steamer or boat at any place excepting that named in their passes, save under circumstances of necessity provided for in the Act; but, when time and weather permit, they may be landed for a few hours with the consent of the medical officer; though it will always be necessary to prevent them from visiting bazars and villages on the way, or landing at places infected with cholera, small-pox, &c.

148. They shall be properly arranged at night and prevented from crowding together; and lanterns shall burn all night in the dispensary, and near privies and gangways.

149. The cooks, assisted by peons and sirdars, shall prepare the food punctually, and when ready it shall be examined, before it is served out, by the doctor or assistant in charge, who shall see that all is well cooked, and distributed fully and fairly according to scale. Boiling rice in bad or brackish water shall not be permitted, and neither cooks nor emigrants shall retain stale food, but shall clean out all utensils and show them to the doctor or agent after each meal. Motherless infants and invalids shall have suitable and freshly prepared food (milk, soup, sago, &c.,) ordered for them every three or four hours. Food for the healthy shall be issued sufficiently early to admit of its being ready at 9 A.M. and 4 P.M. every day; and all issues of rations shall be entered and certified daily by the master, or person deputed by him, and the docto ror agent in charge.

150. All extra allowances of fish, meat, vegetables, &c., and any change in diet, shall be regulated by the doctor only.

151. A constant supply of good drinking water shall be kept up in the tanks, which shall be used alternately, allowing the water to settle after the addition of alum in the proportion of six grains to the gallon. The health of the emigrants depends in very great measure on the water they drink, and, therefore, every effort shall be made to prevent them from drinking the river water fresh drawn from the side of the vessel. There should be no difficulty in carrying out this rule on board steamers and flats.

152. The surplus of emigrants' stores shall not be sold till the end of the passage, or till the emigrants for whom they were supplied have been landed; and the certificates to this effect shall be signed by the master and doctor or other officer in charge and the Debarkation Officer.

153. In the event of any deficiency or pilfering of stores being detected, immediate inquiry shall be made, and the offender prosecuted at the first convenient station.

154. The topases shall sweep the decks morning and evening, and after every meal; and shall keep them always clean and dry. They shall also keep the privies and bed-pans constantly clean and sprinkled with disinfecting powder or carbolic acid; and shall fill the tubs near the privies regularly with water.

Outbreaks of disease.

155. Emigrants suffering from slight illness may be attended in their berths, but all serious cases shall be treated in hospital; and persons attacked by cholera or small-pox or other communicable disease, with all that belongs to them, shall be instantly and thoroughly isolated from the healthy. Even the family or batch in which the case occurred shall be kept on another deck, or as far apart as possible from the rest of the emigrants without exciting alarm.

156. The place or boat on which the disease first breaks out shall be instantly cleared, the deck and wood-work shall be thoroughly cleaned, scraped, and scrubbed with hot sand and disinfecting powder (or washed down with a hot solution of caustic lime, if procurable), and the entire space shall be fumigated with burning sulphur, by letting down screens (or jhamps on board boats) and confining the sulphurous fumes for a time; after which free ventilation shall be promoted, and the place left unoccupied, if possible, for a week or longer.

157. All the latrines shall be washed after the manner of whitewashers with a thin paste of McDougall's disinfecting powder and water, and disinfected and fumigated as above.

158. On steamers or boats the above rule shall be carried out on the occurrence of the first case. The object is to prevent, and not to wait for an epidemic, which can be checked only by promptly and simultaneously attending to premonitory symptoms, isolation of the sick, general and personal cleanliness, careful disposal of excreta, disinfection and destruction of infected articles, free ventilation, and care of the healthy.

159. On boats it may not always be possible to follow the above instructions very closely, but they shall be acted upon as far as possible; and under any circumstances, after the patient has been removed to the hospital boat, the healthy shall be landed and made to bathe and wash their clothes, while the boat is being thoroughly cleaned and disinfected in the manner explained. The emigrants shall not be allowed to re-enter their boat till everything is clean and dry about them, and the bilge of the boat has been freely sprinkled with disinfecting powder or carbolic acid.

160. All clothes, blankets, mats, &c., that have been in any way in contact with those suffering from communicable disease, or have been soiled or suspected of infection or impurity, shall be thrown overboard, or, what is better, burnt on shore if possible, in the presence of the medical officer.

161. If there is a medical officer in charge, a medical diary shall be carefully kept. Every death shall be reported immediately to the master of the steamer. He, or the doctor, shall take charge of any property (money, &c.,) left by the deceased, and, if there be no relatives on board, he shall deliver it to the Magistrate at the place of disembarkation.

162. Masters of vessels shall report their arrival at each station to the senior magisterial officer and to the medical officer; omission to do so shall entail prosecution or forfeiture of license for the future. They shall take up such anchorage or moving ground as the Magistrate may direct.

The way-bill.

163. The master or medical officer in charge shall place the way-bill (form appended) received from the Embarkation Agent before the inspecting officers at each station, in order that they may enter their remarks on the several points indicated in the bill.

164. Masters and medical officers in charge of emigrants shall furnish all necessary information and afford every facility to inspecting officers at each station in carrying out their duties under the provisions of the Act and rules.

165. At the end of the voyage, after the last official inspection at the place of final disembarkation, the master or medical officer in charge shall forward the way-bill in original to the Embarkation Agent at place of embarkation for his remarks, and its ultimate submission to Government through the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta.

Special rules for boats.

166. Medical officers proceeding in charge of emigrants in boats shall be guided by the rules above.

The medical officer shall endeavour to keep the boats forming the flotilla together, and shall keep the hospital boat following the fleet. He shall take care that the boats are not changed, and that the hospital boat is used only for the purpose intended.

167. In the event of any of the boats being disabled by accident, he shall report this or any other defects to the Magistrate at the nearest civil station, so that measures may be adopted to remedy them.

168. When cholera is prevalent, he shall, in order to restrain premonitory diarrhœa till the case can be attended to by the doctor, distribute to intelligent sirdars or peons in each boat some simple pills or mixtures, of which opium should form a very small proportion, with clear instructions how to use them.

169. Besides constant attention to the sick, the medical officer shall see that the boats and their bilges are kept clean, that the emigrants are generally clean and well cared for, that foul or infected villages or places are avoided, and that at night the boats are not fastened to any defiled or unwholesome bank.

Disembarkation.

170. At every place where emigrants are finally disembarked, sufficient and good accommodation, food, water, medicines, medical comforts, and doolies for the conveyance of the sick shall be provided.

171. Any private person or company may establish disembarkation depôts, but they shall be subject to the inspection and approval of the Magistrates and civil medical officers of the districts in which they are situated, and under whose general control all disembarkation depôts shall be managed.

172. At every landing place where the average number of emigrants landed is sufficiently large to render it necessary, a native medical officer shall be appointed to have charge of it. Besides sleeping and cooking sheds, there shall be separate hospitals for ordinary and contagious cases, and separate wards and latrines for males and females.

173. The medical officers in charge of the larger depôts, and the employer's agents or medical officers in charge of private depôts where small batches are only occasionally landed, shall be responsible for the sanitary state of the depôts, and the good treatment of the emigrants in them. A sufficient number of attendants and sweepers shall also be provided; and, as far as they are applicable, the rules for the management of depôts in Calcutta shall be followed.

174. The medical officer or agent in charge of the depôt shall represent to the proper authorities any defects or deficiencies, in order that they may be remedied at once.

175. He shall have doolies in readiness for the sick, who shall be landed without suffering or delay, and conveyed to hospital.

176. He shall see that only those who are fit to travel to their final destination are permitted to leave the depôt, and that members of a family are not separated except with their mutual consent.

177. When it is impossible to cook food for emigrants on the march, they shall be supplied with a sufficient quantity of biscuits and sugar; and if milk be not procurable, preserved milk shall, if possible, be provided for young children, nursing mothers, and convalescents. The addition of half a gallon of water to a tin of Anglo-Swiss preserved milk is all that is necessary.

178. The medical officers in charge of disembarkation depôts shall keep a general register and a medical register in form prescribed.

179. On the recovery of emigrants detained on account of sickness, they shall be forwarded without delay to their final destination. In the event of any one being considered unfit for labor, it will be necessary for the Disembarkation Officer to consult with the Magistrate of the district and the employer concerned, in order that it may be decided whether such laborer shall be accepted by the employer as a non-effective, or whether the laborer shall be released from his contract.

180. Medical officers or agents in charge of disembarkation depôts shall furnish such reports or returns as may from time to time be required of them for the information of Government.

V.—Rules regarding the detention of Emigrants on account of sickness.

181. A distinction is made in the Act (Sections 76 and 78) between contract emigrants detained for treatment or otherwise for their own benefit, and non-contract emigrants who can only be detained if their proceeding endangers the health of others. Emigrants of the former class shall be kept at the disembarkation depôt hospital, if there be such, or at the charitable dispensary, or such other convenient place as the Magistrate may direct. If their disease is communicable, such as cholera or small-pox, they shall be isolated as much as possible, and not brought into any civil station. All expenses incurred on account of such emigrants or their dependents can be recovered by the Magistrate under Section 77. Expenses incurred on account of non-contract emigrants cannot be recovered. If the sirdar in charge or they themselves have the means they must be paid for or pay for themselves. If they are alone and poor they must be treated charitably as any other sick pauper. In case of absolute necessity to save life any necessary expense may be incurred on behalf of Government.

VI.—Rules regarding Dependents.

182. Under Section 93 of the Act the women, children, and aged relatives of emigrants who have engaged under the Act, though not themselves under engagement, may, with the consent of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, and with the written permission of the registering Magistrate or Superintendent, accompany them without having entered into an engagement.

183. A list in the prescribed form of the dependents accompanying each batch, shall be laid before the Magistrate or Superintendent that he may signify thereon his permission as above.

184. Garden-sirdars and recruiters are bound to provide for dependents on the journey in the same way as for emigrants. Dependents shall be entitled also to similar accommodation in depôt and be provided with similar food and clothing. All the foregoing rules shall in short be applicable to them save as regards putting them on contract.

185. Care must be taken that they are not separated from their families. If a dependent emigrant falls ill and is detained on the road, the effective members of his family have the option of remaining with him, just as an emigrant so detained is entitled to have his dependent relatives left to look after him.

186. Magistrates will recover under Section 77 any expenses incurred by them under Section 76 for a dependent emigrant.

PART II.

VII. Rules for the provision of house accommodation, sanitary and medical arrangements, water-supply, and food-supply on gardens.

House accommodation.

1. Each statute adult laborer and dependent, whether effective or non-effective, shall be entitled to not less than 50 superficial feet of house accommodation, and the houses shall be high enough for health and ventilation; and each family, or each group of four persons not being a family, shall be entitled to separate house accommodation on the above scale: except where good houses sufficient to hold not more than six are already in existence. Wherever it is possible, sufficient garden ground shall be attached to each house or row of houses.

2. Each house shall be kept weather-tight and properly ventilated, and in cases where iron roofs are used, they shall be covered or lined with some non-conducting material.

3. The Inspector may, when he deems it necessary, direct any employer of laborers to provide sufficient and proper means for affording to the laborers' houses light and air, such as opposite doors and windows, or ventilating apertures under the eaves capable of being wholly or partially closed.

4. He may also direct any laborer's house to be properly supplied with raised machans or charpoys for sleeping on.

Hospital accommodation and sanitary arrangements.

5. Ordinarily there shall be a hospital on each garden, or part of a garden, on which cooly lines are situated, provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Inspector of Laborers, by an order in writing, to allow one central hospital for groups of two or more neighbouring gardens.

6. The hospital shall be separated from the laborers' houses; it shall be well raised, ventilated, and lighted, and properly fitted with doors and windows or jhamps.

7. The hospital accommodation shall be sufficient for at least five patients, and for not less than five per cent. of the total number of laborers employed on the estate or garden, at the rate of 100 superficial feet for each patient.

8. Each hospital may consist of one or more separate buildings, provided that every such building shall be used exclusively for the purposes of a hospital.

9. Subject to the approval of the Inspector of Laborers, within the local limits of whose authority the hospital may be situated, there shall be provided (a) a sufficient number of hospital attendants to nurse the sick, prepare their food for them, and keep them and their places clean; and (b) such necessary furniture, fittings, appliances, clothing, and blankets, as the medical officer in charge of the hospital may indent for in writing, as absolutely necessary for the laborers under his care, and the proper discharge of his duties. Medical stores shall be provided for each garden according to Schedule F attached to these rules.

10. Every case of communicable disease shall be isolated, and in the event of an epidemic breaking out, the employer shall provide sufficient hospital accommodation of a temporary nature.

11. Excreta from the sick, especially from cholera patients, shall be buried without delay, and with particular care. On no account shall they be buried in or even near the trenches used by healthy laborers: a separate place shall be selected for the purpose at some distance from everything they are likely to contaminate.

12. On the occurrence of disease supposed to be communicable, such as small-pox, cholera, &c., the place shall be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. The walls and floor shall be scraped, mud-plastered, or whitewashed; and the house shall not be re-occupied for at least a week. All suspected or infected clothing shall be thoroughly disinfected or burnt in some safe or suitable spot, in the presence of the medical officer, or some one who can be trusted to see it carefully done.

13. Those who die of communicable disease shall be buried or burnt without delay; and a proper burial or burning-ground shall be selected, if possible, about a mile from the coolies' dwellings and their water-supply. Bodies shall be thoroughly burnt, or buried at least four feet deep.

14. Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to prohibit the treatment of persons suffering from slight ailment in their own homes.

15. On every garden where laborers' lines are erected, such proper accommodation for a dispensary or dispenser's room, and such medical stores within the limit of the annexed scales as the medical officer in charge may indent for in writing shall be provided, subject to the approval of the Inspector of Laborers. Provided always that if the Inspector of Laborers shall consider the supply in any garden insufficient, he may, within the limits of the above scale, order the deficiency to be made good.

16. The laborers' lines and their immediate neighbourhood shall be kept clean and free from impurity.

17. The Inspector may direct any employer of laborers to take such measures as may in the Inspector's opinion be necessary for carrying off surface water from the neighbourhood of the laborers' lines, whenever the accumulation of such water may be considered by the Inspector likely to be injurious to the health of the laborers.

Water supply.

18. Every employer shall be bound to provide wholesome drinking water and a sufficient supply of good water for other purposes for his laborers.

19. The Inspector may direct any employer of laborers to provide water as above either by sinking wells, digging tanks, or in such other manner as may seem to the Inspector suitable to the circumstances of the case; and may provide that the source of drinking water shall be situated at such distance, as may seem to the Inspector necessary, from any known cause of pollution.

Food-supply.

20. When there is not a sufficient supply of rice in the local market, or when the price of rice in such markets exceeds Rs. 3 per maund, the employer shall keep in store, or otherwise cause to be supplied for sale at the rate of not more than Rs. 3 a maund or other rate provided in the contracts, a sufficient supply of rice for such time as the Inspector of Laborers may direct by an order in writing. Ten chittacks of rice a day for each statute adult shall be considered under the above rule a sufficient supply.

21. An Inspector or Magistrate proposing to make a judicial inquiry under Section 115 into the breach of any of the rules, shall give notice in writing to the employer of his intention to make such inquiry.

RESOLUTION.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 6th January 1874.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has to invite the special attention of officers of Government, and of all others concerned with the transport of laborers to the north-eastern tea districts and their employment there, to the new Act VII (B.C.) of 1873 for amending the law relating to that subject, and for regulating contract labor and service in Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet.

2. One of the important changes made by this Act, to which particular attention must be drawn, is that by which time-expired coolies are no longer subject to the ordinary provisions of the Act. A laborer subject to the provisions of the Act is defined in Section 2 to mean any emigrant who has been conveyed to a labor district in accordance with a contract made under the provisions of Bengal Act III of 1863, Bengal Act VI of 1865, Bengal Act II of 1870, or this Act, during the duration of such contract, and no longer.

3. The door is also opened by Section 7 to a new class of free laborers under contracts for terms not exceeding one year, who also, after their arrival in the labor districts, will not be subject to the ordinary provisions of the Act.

4. Employers, however, must not overlook the fact that under Sections 100-103 they must enter in their books and returns all persons employed on their gardens, whether they are laborers as defined in the Act or not, distinguishing between each class of laborers; and Inspectors have power to muster both classes of coolies to verify the books and returns. This is a matter of much importance, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that Inspectors will take immediate steps to introduce the classification of laborers required in the books and returns, and see that managers of gardens are made aware of their obligations. Inspectors must also habitually use their power to muster and distinguish the two classes, and see that it is fully understood which are bound by the provisions of the Act, and which are free laborers serving under ordinary contracts, or as monthly or daily laborers who are not liable to be dealt with, seized or punished, otherwise than under the ordinary law.

5. It will be observed that under Section 122 employers can arrest a deserting laborer without warrant and without the assistance of a police officer, only if no Magistrate is resident within 10 miles of the place where such a laborer may be found. The Lieutenant-Governor stated in Council his wish, which he now repeats, that efforts should be made to establish in places remote from the regular head-quarters of districts and sub-divisions, magisterial Benches which should dispose of such cases. A selected planter and a trustworthy native, such as a mouzadar or other qualified resident, might sit together as Honorary Magistrates, or Benches might be otherwise fairly constituted with powers which would admit of repeal and revision by the Deputy Commissioner. Deputy Commissioners are requested to consider, and submit at an early date, proposals for giving effect to this suggestion. By the 3rd clause of Section 122, a form of procedure more summary than the ordinary is permitted in desertion cases. But, again, it must not be overlooked, in dealing with these cases, that, under the last clause of Section 122, laborers apprehended or arrested without sufficient cause are entitled to compensation.

6. Employers using garden sirdars to recruit laborers will not fail to observe that, under Section 20, each laborer must be registered before the Magistrate of the district or of the division of the district within which the engagement was made, or through which he shall first pass on the road to his destination.

7. Magistrates of districts on the route to Assam or Cachar should notice, with reference to Section 72, that the power to stop batches of emigrants proceeding otherwise than in vessels carrying more than 20 persons has been taken away. As regards vessels liable to inspection, the duty must be done properly and thoroughly, but not so as to cause any unnecessary delay. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that, if all is right and in order, there will be no more delay caused to licensed vessels than is absolutely necessary. It is a great object to make the voyage as short as possible.

8. By comparing Sections 76 and 78, it will be seen that a distinction is made between contract emigrants detained for treatment or otherwise for their own benefit, and non-contract emigrants who can only be detained if their proceeding endangers the health of others. There is no special provision in the law for recovering expenses incurred on behalf of the latter class. They must be kept by the sirdar in charge, or, if they are paupers, must be dealt with like any other pauper in charitable dispensaries.

9. Special attention is required to the new Sections 118-120 regarding unhealthy localities. It will be seen that a great improvement has been made on the indefiniteness of the old law.

10. Attention should be given to the new forms appended to the Act which should be brought into use at once.

11. The character of the embarkation agent's functions must also not be overlooked by the medical officer at Goalundo, who will perform the functions of embarkation agent and medical inspector at that place. An "emigrant" is any person who has engaged to go to a labor district, whether under the Act or not, and by Section 67 an emigrant not under the Act cannot be embarked on a vessel carrying more than twenty persons without a pass from the embarkation agent, which the agent will give only after being satisfied that the emigrant has no serious contagious disease or anything else making him disagreeable and dangerous to others. Beyond this, however, the embarkation agent is not to interfere with free emigrants.

12. Generally, the Lieutenant-Governor would remark that the free labor clauses of the Act mainly depend for their efficacy on the facilities given for free emigration, and those again mainly depend on roads, steamers, and appliances. The Government is making through roads from the western districts to Doobree, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that, as far as Doobree on one side and Chuttuck on the other, there will be no difficulty after a little time. The local officers must at once set themselves to consider the lines of communication beyond those points, from Doobree to Goalparah, Gowhatty, and Upper Assam, and from Chuttuck to Sylhet and Cachar, and possibly by Shillong to Assam, reporting on the subject fully.

PAPER CURRENCY DEPARTMENT,

L. BERKELEY,

Notice

Is hereby given that in consequence of the construction of the new road from Giridi on the Karharbari Branch of the East Indian Railway to Hazaribaugh, all goods can most conveniently be sent to Hazaribaugh by that route instead of by the railway to Barakar only. The undersigned therefore invites all Government officers, tradesmen and other gentlemen who may not be specially instructed to the contrary by their consignees, and who do not avail themselves of the Government parcel post, to send their consignments and goods to the care of the Station Master, Giridi.

This request is made as the transport agency has been removed from the Barakar, and the route by Giridi is shorter and less expensive.

Medical officer to report.

If the Lieutenant-Governor, after perusal and consideration of the said report, information, and notes, shall be of opinion that such mortality was caused by the want of due care or precaution and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the owner of such estate or the employer, and that such estate or portion thereof is unfit for the residence of laborers by reason of the want of due care or precaution, and of the adoption of proper and available sanitary measures on the part of the owner of such estate or portion thereof or the employer, it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to declare in writing that such estate or portion thereof is unfit for the residence of laborers. Such declaration of the Lieutenant-Governor shall have the same effect as the finding of a committee under the last preceding section.

Lieutenant-Governor may declare estate unfit for residence.

Contracts to be void as regards that estate.

120. Every employer who shall cause or permit any laborer to reside upon any such estate or portion of an estate as under the provisions of either of the two preceding sections may have been found to be unfit for the residence of laborers, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine. Provided always that in case it shall appear to the inspector that any such estate, or portion of an estate, or any part of such portion, has become fit for the residence of laborers, he shall, with the sanction of the magistrate of the district, give under his hand a certificate of such fitness, and no employer shall be liable to fine by reason of his causing or permitting laborers to reside in any place respecting which such certificate of fitness shall have been given.

Penalty on employer permitting laborer to reside in locality declared to be unfit.

Chapter 14.—Offences committed by Laborers.

121. Any laborer, who shall absent himself from his labor without sufficient cause, may, on conviction by a magistrate, be sentenced to lose all claims to wages or allowances during the period of such absence, and also to forfeit to his employer a sum not exceeding four annas for each day during which such absence shall be continued; and in case such absence shall have exceeded seven days, or in case such laborer shall have been already convicted of the same offence within a period of three months, such laborer shall be furthermore sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for fourteen days.

Penalty on laborer for absenting himself without sufficient cause.

122. If any laborer deserts from his employer's service, and no magistrate is resident within ten miles of the place where such laborer may be found, such employer or any other person acting in his behalf may, without first procuring a warrant, and without the assistance of any police officer (who, nevertheless, shall be bound to give such assistance, if called upon to do so), apprehend such laborer. Provided, nevertheless, that if such laborer be found in the service of another employer, he shall not be arrested without a warrant. Provided also that any person, who shall apprehend a laborer under the provisions of this section, shall without delay give the said laborer in charge at the nearest police station, and there enter the charge upon which he shall have apprehended such laborer.

Deserting may be apprehended without warrant.

Any laborer so given in charge shall be conveyed, without delay, to the nearest magistrate; and, if such magistrate be authorized to deal with the case, he shall himself adjudicate upon the charge; but if not, he shall forward the said laborer, under custody, to the magistrate or bench of magistrates authorized to deal with such case, who shall thereupon adjudicate upon such charge.

To be taken to nearest magistrate.

Upon complaint made to a magistrate by an employer, or any person acting on his behalf, that a laborer has deserted from his employer's service, such magistrate may issue a summons for the attendance of such laborer, or a warrant for his arrest, and appoint a day for the hearing of the complaint without previously examining the complainant.

Procedure upon complaint of desertion.

Every laborer who deserts from his employer's service shall on conviction be punished with rigorous imprisonment which may extend to one month; and every laborer who, after having been convicted of desertion, shall again desert from his employer's service, shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with rigorous imprisonment for a period which may extend to two months; and every laborer who, after having been twice convicted of desertion, shall again desert, shall, on conviction as aforesaid, be punished with imprisonment, simple or rigorous, which may extend to three months.

Punishment.

If it appears to the magistrate or to the bench of magistrates adjudicating upon any such charge as is mentioned in this section, that such laborer has been apprehended or arrested without sufficient cause, it shall be lawful for such magistrate or bench of magistrates to impose a fine not exceeding fifty rupees on the employer, at whose instance such laborer has been apprehended or arrested, or to award compensation not exceeding fifty rupees to such laborer, and such compensation shall be paid by the employer at whose instance such laborer has been apprehended or arrested.

Compensation for wrongful arrest.

Conviction not to operate as a release.

123. On the expiry of any sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, save as is provided in section 124, it shall be the duty of the magistrate to make over such laborer to any person appointed on the part of his employer to receive charge of him; and no conviction under this Act, or imprisonment under such conviction, shall, save as is provided in section 124, be held to operate as a release to any laborer from the terms of his contract. Provided, nevertheless, that the period of imprisonment shall in no case be prolonged by reason of there being no person present on the part of the employer to take charge of the laborer at the expiry of his sentence; but such laborer shall in that case be sent to the principal place of business of such employer, and the expense of such conveyance shall be levied from the employer in the manner provided in section 96.

Cancellation of contract by desertion.

124. Whenever any laborer shall have actually suffered imprisonment amounting in the whole to six months for desertion from his employer's service, it shall be lawful for the inspector, and he is hereby required, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and every such cancellation shall be certified by the inspector on the back of the contract.

Portion of sentence may be cancelled on application of employer.

125. The employer, or any person authorized to act for the employer, of any laborer imprisoned for any offence under this Act, may apply to a magistrate, at any time previous to the expiry of such sentence, that such laborer be made over to him for the purpose of completing his contract; and such magistrate may, if he see good cause, make over or forward such laborer to his employer; and in that case such magistrate shall cancel the remainder of the sentence passed on him, and shall endorse on the contract of such laborer a memorandum signed by him of such cancellation.

Expense of restoring deserting laborer to be paid by employer.

126. Every employer who obtains an order for the return or forwarding of any laborer who has deserted, shall pay the expense incurred in such return or forwarding, and shall, before the order is issued, deposit with the magistrate such sum as such magistrate may in his discretion deem to be sufficient for defraying the expense of such return or forwarding.

Time of unlawful absence or imprisonment to be excluded from contract period.

127. The duration of every unlawful absence from labor, of which any laborer may be convicted, and every sentence of imprisonment for any offence under this Act, shall be endorsed on the contract, at the time of its being passed, by the officer passing it; and no such period of imprisonment or unlawful absence so endorsed shall be reckoned as part of the term for which the laborer is bound to serve, but such term shall extend to such further period as shall be equivalent to the aggregate amount of the imprisonment and unlawful absence so endorsed.

Other person enticing away, harbouring, or employing laborer under contract.

128. Any person who knowingly and wilfully entices away, harbours, or employs, or attempts to entice from his employment, any laborer, before such laborer shall have been lawfully released from his contract, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine, the whole or any portion of which may be awarded to the employer of such laborer.

Chapter 15.—Complaints made by Laborers.

Employer to give notice to inspector if laborer wishes to complain of personal ill usage or breach of contract.

129. If any laborer states to his employer, or to any person acting for such employer, that he desires to make a complaint to the inspector of laborers of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act on the part of such employer or other person, the person to whom such statement is made shall, within forty-eight hours, send notice thereof in writing to the inspectors, and in default of so doing, such person shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Inspector how to proceed on receipt of notice, or if complaint is made to him, or if he has reason to believe that there is ground for a complaint.

130. Whenever any inspector of laborer receives such notice in writing as aforesaid, or whenever any complaint of personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid, is made to him by any laborer against his employer or any person acting for such employer, or whenever the inspector has other reasonable grounds for believing that any such personal ill-usage or breach of any provision of this Act as aforesaid has been suffered by a laborer, such inspector shall forthwith, if the place in which such offence has been committed is not situated within the limits of his own authority, give notice thereof in writing to the inspector within the limits of whose authority such place is situated; and if such place be situated within the limits of his own authority, then such inspector shall, so soon as conveniently may be, proceed to some place not more than ten miles from the principal place of business of such employer, and make full inquiry into the matter complained of.

Procedure. Penalty for obstructing service of, or disobedience to, summons.

131. For the purposes of such inquiry the inspector may summon such laborer and any witnesses. If any employer, or other person acting for or under such employer, in any way wilfully obstructs the service of, or obedience to, such summons; or if the laborer or any witness summoned intentionally omits to attend as required in such summons, he shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

If complaint is untrue or frivolous.

132. If, upon such inquiry made on the complaint of a laborer, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is untrue or frivolous, he shall enter in his book the particulars of such complaint, and a short statement of the grounds of his opinion respecting it, and shall dismiss the complaint, and in such case shall endorse on the employer's copy of the contract of such complainant the number of days during which such complainant has been absent from work in consequence of such inquiry, and such number of days shall be added to the period of the contract of such complainant.

If complaint is well-founded.

133. If, upon inquiry as aforesaid, the inspector is of opinion that the complaint is well-founded, he shall, if himself a magistrate, dispose of the case according to due course of law. If the inspector shall not be a magistrate, he shall without delay send the complainant and his witnesses to the nearest magistrate, and such magistrate shall thereupon dispose of the case according to due course of law.

Recovery of arrears of wages.

134. If, upon the complaint of any laborer, it is proved to the satisfaction of a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear for two months, it shall be lawful for the magistrate to award to such laborer the amount which shall appear to be then due to him; and also, by way of compensation, such further sum, not exceeding that amount, as shall appear to such magistrate to be just; and in case of default, the magistrate shall levy the entire sum by distress and sale of any moveable property which may be found in the possession or under the charge of such employer.

Compensation may be given if arrear is for two months.

Contract may be declared cancelled if employer is convicted of maltreatment by session court, or twice by magistrate;

135. If any employer, or any person placed in authority over any laborer by such employer, shall be convicted of any offence causing injury to the person or property of such laborer triable under the Code of Criminal Procedure by the court of session; or if any such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall be twice convicted of any such offence against such laborer triable under the said Code by a magistrate; or if it shall be proved before a magistrate that the wages of such laborer are in arrear to an amount exceeding the total of such laborer's wages for four months; or if a magistrate shall, on the report of the inspector and after due inquiry, upon oath, in the presence of the parties, be satisfied that any aborer has been compelled to perform any labor while he was unfit for it, or has been subjected to ill-usage by such employer, or any other person placed in authority over the laborer by such employer; it shall be lawful for the magistrate, if he think fit, on the application of the laborer, in each of such cases, to cancel the contract of such laborer, and award to him compensation not exceeding thirty rupees, and every such cancelment shall be certified by the magistrate on the back of such contract.

or if wages are in arrear for four months;

or if ill-usage is proved.

Chapter 16.—Determination of Contract.

Laborer may appear before the inspector to register completion of contract.

136. Every laborer who has completed the term of his contract shall be forthwith entitled to appear before the inspector or assistant inspector in order that the completion of his contract may be registered.

Penalty if employer detains, or omits to report.

If an employer detains such laborer after the completion of his contract, or fails to give notice of such completion to the inspector within one month after the date of such completion, such employer shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Power to redeem contract.

137. If any laborer is able and desirous to redeem the unexpired term of his contract of service by payment of a sum equivalent to the value thereof, such laborer may demand to be taken or allowed to go before the inspector of laborers within the local limits of whose authority he may be employed, and on is depositing such sum in the hands of such inspector, such inspector shall give notice to the employer that such laborer requires him within one week to show cause why the contract of such laborer should not be released; and, in case no sufficient cause should be shown, such inspector shall require the production of the contract of such laborer, and endorse thereon a certificate of release by purchase, and shall hold the sum in deposit on account of the employer of such laborer. If any employer, or other person authorized to act for the employer, shall neglect to comply with such demand as aforesaid, such employer, or other person as aforesaid, shall, on conviction by a magistrate, be punished with fine.

Value of unexpired term of contract.

The value of the unexpired term of contract shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of one rupee for every month of the unexpired portion of the first year, of three rupees for every such month of the second year, and of five rupees for every such month of the third year, of the original term of the laborer's engagement.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Tenth Publication.]

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for making Laws and Regulations, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon in a month :—

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the voluntary registration of Mahomedan marriages and divorces within the provinces under the control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and whereas it is expedient that Registrars of such marriages and divorces should be recognised and licensed by the Local Government, it is enacted as follows :—

1. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to issue a license to any person being a Mahomedan, either by name or as holding any office for the time being, authorising him to act as Registrar of Mahomedan marriages and divorces.

2. Such licenses may be given on the recommendation of the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta, of the Commissioner of Police, to any member of any Mahomedan sect who can show that he is usually resorted to as a professional witness in such cases by his co-religionists, or that he has practised the duties of Kazi, and that he is well versed in Mahomedan law, provided always that satisfactory evidence is produced of his being a person of good moral character.

3. No Mahomedan marriage or divorce which would otherwise be valid shall be held to be invalid merely by reason of its not having been registered before a Registrar licensed under this Act.

4. Each licensed Registrar under this Act shall keep a Register Book in a form to be laid down by the Local Government in which he shall enter all marriages and divorces,—the parties to which shall desire to have them so registered. He shall also, if requested at the time, give an extract of any entry affecting them to either of the parties to such entry.

5. The entry of any marriage or divorce in the Register Book shall be signed by the Registrar, and signed, sealed, or marked by the persons married or divorced, and shall be attested by at least two credible witnesses who were present at the ceremony, and every such entry shall be made in order from the beginning to the end of the book, and any extract of any entry given to the parties shall be numbered to correspond with the number of the entry in the Register Book, and shall be authenticated by signature of the Registrar.

6. The Registrar shall keep safely the said Register Book until the same shall be filled, and shall then, or if he shall leave the district, make over the same to the District Registrar of Assurances for safe custody.

7. Any Registrar who shall discover any error to have been committed in the form or substance of any such entry may, within one month next after the discovery of such error, in the presence of the parties married, or divorced, or in case of their death or absence, in the presence of two other credible witnesses, who shall respectively

attest the same, correct the erroneous entry according to the truth of the case by entry in the margin without any alteration of the original entry, and shall sign the marginal entry, and add thereunto the day of the month and year when such correction shall be made, and shall if possible give or cause to be delivered a corrected copy of the extract to the parties to the original entry.

8. Every Registrar shall at all reasonable times, and on the payment of such fees as may be agreed upon, search or permit search to be made in any such Register Books, and shall give a copy under his hand of any entry or entries in the same.

9. Every certified extract of any entry in any Register Book purporting to be signed by the licensed Registrar, shall be received as evidence of the marriage or divorce purporting to be so entered or of the facts purporting to be so certified therein, without further proof of such Register Book or extract, unless and until the genuineness of such entry or extract or the truth of the facts set out in it be disproved.

10. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or injure or cause to be destroyed or injured any such Register Book or any part thereof, or any such authenticated extract as aforesaid, or shall wilfully insert or cause to be inserted any false entry in any such Register Book or authenticated extract, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

11. It shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up rules and prescribe forms for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, and to charge a fee not exceeding Rs. 2 for each license granted under the Act, provided always that no rule shall be laid down to interfere with the taking by any licensed Registrar from the parties to any marriage or divorce of any fee, which custom or his position may entitle him to demand.

The attention of the Government has for some time past been drawn to the increasing number of offences against marriage shown in the criminal returns, especially in the eastern and Mahomedan districts. The remarkably small number of convictions obtained in such cases taken together with their increasing numbers, seemed to indicate the existence of a grievance which the Criminal Courts are at present unable to redress. Inquiry has proved that this is in fact the case. The loose notions regarding the marriage tie prevalent among the lower orders of Mahomedans lead to the frequent institution of criminal charges, while the absence of any authorized system of registration of marriage and divorce (since the office of Kazi ceased to be recognized by law) makes it difficult to furnish the amount of proof which the Criminal Courts require to warrant their taking action.

It appears to the Government that the legal recognition of an authorized system of registering Mahomedan marriages and divorces will go far to supply the existing want, and this Bill provides such a system. The Registrar will, as regards such registration, take the place which was filled by the old Kazis, and certified copies of extracts from his register are made primâ facie proof of the facts recited therein. But the registration of marriages and divorces is left optional with the parties concerned, and all questions of remuneration are left to be settled between the Registrar and the parties who avail themselves of his services.

Interpretation of "section."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

When a Court inferior to a Court of Session sentences an accused person to whipping, the new Code of Criminal Procedure, section 302, paragraph 4, is so framed as to render it necessary to send him, for the execution of the sentence, to the jail of the district in which the trial is held. The result is (as the Panjab Government has pointed out) that Magistrates at out-stations and places distant from any jail are now practically prohibited from inflicting sentences of whipping. The primary object of the present Bill is to amend the provision in question so as to make it apply to such sentences only when passed by the Court of Session or the High Court. This amendment is effected by clause 8.

2. The opportunity has been taken to make certain other amendments of the Code, which seem either necessary or highly expedient. This may be shortly stated as follows:

3. Clause 2 of the Bill proposes to insert, after section 64 of the Code, a new section empowering the Government of India to transfer cases from any Criminal Court to any other Criminal Court in British India of equal or superior jurisdiction, or to order that any offence shall be enquired into or tried in any district other than that in which the offence has been committed. This power is expressly made exercisable only where it appears that the transfer or order will promote the ends of justice, or tend to the general convenience of the parties or witnesses. A somewhat similar provision was contained in the repealed Bengal Regulation XVI of 1810, section 3, and reference may be made to the power to change the venue conferred by 33 Vic., c. 9, section 29

4. Section 272 of the Code declares that the rules of limitation shall not apply to appeals against acquittals prescribed under that section. This provision was doubtless intended only to get rid of the very short limit fixed by Act IX of 1871, but it leaves the right of appeal by the Crown without limit, and clause 3 of the Bill proposes to fix a period of one year within which such appeals must be brought.

5. The last four words of the second clause of section 274 ("and in addition thereto") are meaningless when considered with the context. They clearly were intended to be "and not in addition thereto." Clause 4 makes this amendment.

6. The Bombay High Court has lately held that, in rejecting an appeal under section 278, the Appellate Court has no power to enhance the sentence. The Bill, clause 5, adopts this ruling.

7. Section 296 is incomplete, and might be held to authorize any Session Judge or Magistrate who considers that an accused person has been improperly discharged, to direct him to be committed for an offence with which he had not been charged Clause 6 therefore (in accordance with the ruling of Phear, J., in Regina v. Tarucknath Mookerjee, 10 Bengal Law Reports, 285) declares that the committal must be for trial upon the matter of which the accused has been improperly discharged.

8. Sections 37 and 295 have given rise to doubts as to the meaning of the expression "any Subordinate Court" in section 298, as to directing inquiries into complaints dismissed under section 147. The Bill (here following the second paragraph of section 295) declares that, for the purposes of section 298, any Magistrate in a Sessions Division shall be deemed to be subordinate to the Session Judge of the Division.

9. The object of clause 8 has already been explained in the first paragraph of this Statement.

10. Section 330 empowers the Court of Session and the High Court to issue commissions, for the examination of absent witnesses, to the Magistrate of the District or a Magistrate of the first class in whose jurisdiction the witnesses may be. But the section omits to provide for the case of witnesses in the Presidency towns, and it also fails to say what shall be done with the commission when it has been executed. Clause 9 of the Bill amends these defects.

11. A question has been raised as to whether, when a person committed before a Court of Session appears to be insane, the trial of the fact of his insanity is or is not part of his trial before the Court, and whether, therefore, the fact in question is or is not to be determined by a jury, or with the aid of assessors. Clause 10 of the Bill (following the ruling of Phear, J., in Regina v Lheekoo Kalwar, 10 Bengal Law Reports App. 10) decides this question in the affirmative.

12. The last paragraph of section 464 enacts that "no error or defect in any judgment shall invalidate the proceedings." The intention of the legislature was of course to confine the operation of this clause to merely formal errors and defects. Clause 12 of the Bill expresses this clearly.

13. The remaining clauses explain themselves.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill is the last of the series of measures (Acts VIII of 1868, XIV of 1870, XXIX of 1871 and XII of 1873 are the preceding terms) which have been prepared with a view of lessening the bulk of the Indian Statute-book, and thus facilitating the production of a revised edition of the Acts and Regulations. If it become law, it will remove from the Statute-book 37 enactments wholly and 210 in part.

So far as relates to the Bengal Regulations, the present Bill is to a large extent founded on a valuable Note by Mr. C. D. Field, District Judge of Chittagong, dated August 2nd, 1873, which has been forwarded to the Legislative Department by the Government of Bengal.

The following order, issued by the Government of India, in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue and Commerce, is republished for general information :—

No 178.—Fort William, the 21st January 1874.—Notification.—Agriculture and Horticulture.—The accounts which the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has communicated to the Viceroy of the present condition of parts of Behar, make it, in His Excellency's opinion, essential that some high officer should be present on the spot, with full powers to direct and control the operations in connection with the relief of scarcity and distress under the general instructions which have been issued by the Government of India and the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2. As it is impossible, under existing circumstances, that the Lieutenant-Governor should himself proceed to Behar, the Viceroy has agreed to associate with His Honor, for the above purpose, the Honorable Sir Richard Temple, who will visit first Behar, and afterwards other parts of the country where distress may exist, with full authority, to be delegated to him by the Government of Bengal, to direct the relief operations.

3. It has been arranged that the Lieutenant-Governor will give the necessary orders to all officers concerned

4. Sir Richard Temple will report his proceedings from time to time to the Government of Bengal.

Telegram from the Chief Commissioner, dated 7th January 1874.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor-General in Council has had under consideration the question of assisting emigration from the distressed districts of Bengal to British Burma, partly as one means of alleviating the apprehended scarcity, and partly in view to promoting the cultivation of waste land in that province.

2. The present is a peculiarly favorable time, not only on account of the greater willingness on the part of the population to emigrate which may be anticipated on account of the scarcity, but also from the fact that the transport of the emigrants can be readily arranged by the vessels now employed in importing rice from Burma to Bengal.

3. His Excellency in Council has therefore decided to allot five lakhs of rupees for the promotion of emigration to Burma, which sum is to be formed into a separate fund from which the expenses of State emigration to Burma will be defrayed, and to which any recoveries which the Chief Commissioner may find it possible to make from the emigrants will be credited. All sums thus recouped will be available for expenditure in the same manner and under the same conditions as the original grant.

4. His Excellency in Council has decided to appoint a Superintendent of State Emigration to Burma, and that officer will act in direct correspondence with the Government of India in all matters connected with the objects of his appointment.

5. Emigrants for Burma will be collected in two ways—

(1)—By recruiters acting under the Superintendent's orders.

(2)—By district officers in the distressed districts.

6. In the absence of any special law governing emigration from the Continent of India to British Burma, such emigration will require to be regulated by special contract in each case. The form of the contract to be entered into by the emigrant is appended to this Resolution.

7. In the case of emigrants recruited by the staff employed under the orders of the Superintendent, that officer will, for the purposes of executing the contract, be ex-officio the representative of the Chief Commissioner of British Burma; in the case of emigrants recruited through district or sub-divisional officers, those officers are similarly constituted, for these same purposes, representatives of the Chief Commissioner.

8. The recruiters working under the Superintendent's orders will bring the emigrants recruited by them direct to the depôt at Calcutta.

9. The emigrants recruited by district officers will be forwarded to that depôt from time to time, in batches of convenient numbers, under the charge of selected persons who will provide for their food and transport on the way.

10. All subsidiary details in regard to the collection of emigrants in, and their transport from, the distressed districts will be arranged between the Superintendent and the district officers, and such further orders as may be necessary on this subject will be issued hereafter in this Department.

11. It is to be borne in mind by the Superintendent and the district officers, who conduct recruiting operations, that the proportion of women and children below the age of 12 to adult males and youths over 14 years of age, should not as a rule exceed 2 of the former to 3 of the latter.

12. It will be the duty of the Superintendent to place himself in direct communication with the Magistrate-Collectors of the distressed districts, to arrange with them for the transport to Calcutta of persons willing to emigrate, and who shall have executed the required contract; to provide these officers with the necessary funds, to receive and check their accounts of the expenditure of the same, and to incorporate these accounts in his own; to organize and maintain a staff of respectable recruiters, and to execute contracts, as representative of the Chief Commissioner of British Burma, with such emigrants as they may recruit; to erect and constitute a suitable depôt for the reception of all emigrants, whether recruited by his own staff or sent down from the distressed districts; to provide proper food and medicine for them while in depôt, and to see that all sanitary precautions for their comfort and the preservation of their health are duly taken; to arrange for their passages to British Burma by the vessels of the British India Steam Navigation Company, in accordance with the terms separately agreed upon with that Company; to provide them with such extra clothing as may be necessary for the voyage, to arrange for their subsistence during the voyage, and to send with them such native doctors, sirdars, cooks, and topasses as may be necessary; to maintain and render regularly monthly accounts of all expenditure incurred on State emigration by or through him, and to carry out such further orders as the Government of India and the Chief Commissioner of British Burma may from time to time issue for his guidance in regard to these matters.

13. Necessary advances will be made to the Superintendent out of the Emigration Fund on applications countersigned by the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Agriculture, Revenue and Commerce.

14. In Burma the entire control of the arrangements will rest with the Chief Commissioner, who will assume all responsibility for the emigrants from the moment of their landing.

15. Expenses incurred on account of State emigration in Burma will be debited to the emigration fund, in such manner as may be arranged in the Financial Department.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Financial Department, are republished for general information :—

No. 483.—Fort William, the 23*rd January* 1874.—Notification.—Leave and Allowances.—The Governor-General in Council directs that in each of the forms A. B. C. and D. in Appendix A. of the Civil Leave Code the words "quoting Section and Rule" be added after the words "(nature of leave)" in the heading, the addition falling within the parenthesis; and that the following note be inserted under column 10 in each of the forms A. B. and C. and under column 11 in form D. :—

("NOTE.—When the leave cannot be extended or commuted, the fact should be stated.")

No. 599.—Separate Revenue.—Stamps.—In exercise of the powers vested in him by the General Stamp Act, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to exempt from payment of stamp duty all contracts for service in British Burma under the Chief Commissioner of that Province, entered into between natives of India emigrating to British Burma in pursuance of the Government Resolution of this date, for regulating such emigration, and the Superintendent of State Emigration or other Government Officers acting as representative of the said Chief Commissioner.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,—FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

ACCOUNTS.

Fort William, the 17*th December* 1873.

Read again—

Financial Resolution No. 842, dated 7th February 1873, prescribing revised forms of certificates to be attached to contingent bills.

Read also the undermentioned communications from the Governments of Bombay and Bengal, suggesting, for reasons stated, an alteration in the form of disbursing officer's certificates :—

Bombay letter No. 3097-159F, dated 21st August 1873.
Bengal „ No. 2806, dated 18th September 1873.

RESOLUTION.—The disbursing officer referred to in the Resolution of the 7th February 1873 is the officer who draws a bill for contingent charges and is responsible for the due disbursement of the amount.

A disbursing officer may be left to deal with vouchers for items not exceeding Rs. 10, attaching to his contingent bill a certificate in the following form in lieu of that prescribed in the orders of 7th February 1873 :—

"I certify that the expenditure charged in this bill could not, with due regard to the interests of the "public service, be avoided. I have satisfied myself that the charges entered in this bill have been really "paid. Vouchers for all sums above Rs. 10 in amount are attached to the bill. I have, as far as possible, "obtained vouchers for smaller sums, and am personally responsible that they have been so destroyed that "they cannot be used again."

When the bill of a disbursing officer is countersigned, vouchers for sums above Rs. 10 and not exceeding Rs. 100 shall be examined, cancelled, and retained in the office of the countersigning officer, as directed in the orders of 7th February 1873.

Accordingly, for the certificate prescribed for the countersigning officer in those orders, the following shall be substituted :—

"I certify that in support of every charge of more than Rs. 10 made in this bill, a receipt or other "voucher in proper form has been given to me and is now in my possession. The receipts and vouchers for "items in excess of Rs. 100 are attached to the bill, and I am personally responsible that the receipts and "vouchers for all other items of more than Rs. 10 are in proper form and order, and that they have been so "cancelled that they cannot again be used to support claims against the Government."

A district officer need not personally give the certificate required from a disbursing officer. With the sanction of the Commissioner, or, in the Madras Presidency, of the Board of Revenue, he may delegate the duty to one of his gazetted subordinates.

A register of contingent expenditure should be kept in each office, and the initials of the head of the office should be entered against the date of the payment of each item.

The Governor-General in Council expects that every public officer will exercise the same vigilance in respect to petty contingent expenses that he would do if he were spending his own money.

25. Any offence against the rules committed by a contractor or his agent at Goalundo, or at any other place of embarkation, shall affect such contractor in the same way as though it had been committed at Calcutta.

26. Every contractor shall explain to his recruiters the nature of the duties entrusted to them, and furnish them with passes (Section 39) and with license and descriptive forms (Section 38), the latter being correctly filled in and signed by the contractor; and also with copies of Act VII (B.C.) of 1873, and written applications to the Superintendent for recruiting licenses.

31. The contractor shall ascertain that those sections of the Act that provide for the registration, proper care, and treatment of emigrants previous to their entering the depôt, have been complied with; and shall immediately detain and report any recruiter, garden-sirdar, or other person in charge who may be found to have infringed the law.

32. The contractor directly, or through his agent, shall be responsible for the good treatment and care of the emigrants, and shall obey the instructions of the Medical Inspector, to whom especially he shall be responsible for the sanitary state of the depôt, and the feeding, clothing, and medical treatment of its inmates.

Any neglect of infants or invalids on the part of the contractor, or resident medical officer, shall render such contractor or medical officer, liable to withdrawal of license.

45. Excreta from the hospital or privies, and filth of any description, shall not be buried within at least 1,000 feet of any source of drinking water; nor be thrown into stagnant pools and nullahs which may happen to be unavoidably near the depôts.

46. The chuprassees on duty shall be constantly about the depôt preserving order and cleanliness everywhere, especially when cooking, feeding, and inspections are conducted. 54. Emigrants in depôt, for whom the contractor fails to provide contracts within thirty days of their arrival at the depôt, shall be returned without delay, through the Superintendent's office, to the places where they were engaged, at the expense of the contractor, unless they, in the Superintendent's presence, agree to accept release on the spot. All disqualified emigrants also shall be dealt with in the same manner, excepting those suffering from sickness, who shall not be forwarded until they are cured, or are in a fit state to travel.

Emigrants engaged in batches of less than 20 by garden-sirdars.

55. If emigrants recruited by garden-sirdars, under the provisions of Sections 19 to 32 of the Act, are brought to a depôt, they shall be subject in all respects, save as regards the execution of their contracts, to the provisions of these rules respecting emigrants recruited on behalf of contractors. They shall obey all the depôt rules, and be subject to all the inspections that other emigrants undergo. Separate lists shall, however, be kept of the members of each such gang, and of its dependents.

Preparations for despatch to labor districts.

56. Every contractor preparing to despatch emigrants to Assam, Cachar, or Sylhet, shall ascertain whether others purpose doing so by the same opportunity or at the same time; and shall, in communication with them and the steam agents concerned, and subject to the Superintendent's approval, fix the dates of despatch from Calcutta and arrange accordingly, allowing ample time for the discharge of all duties connected with the transport of emigrants under the Act.

57. No emigrants shall be despatched from a depôt in which cholera has appeared, until the Medical Inspector has satisfied himself after a due period of observation that the disease has ceased.

58. If the total number of emigrants and dependents to be despatched exceed fifty souls, and there be no medical officer appointed under Section 70 to the charge of the emigrants on the vessel conveying them, a medical officer shall be nominated to go in charge of them. He shall procure a license from the Medical Inspector.

59. When the employer or his agent has noted the emigrants selected by him in the certificate of health, a written application for a final medical inspection shall be sent to the Medical Inspector at least two days before the date of despatch from Calcutta. The medical officer, if any, who is to accompany the emigrants, shall be present at the final inspection by the Medical Inspector, and if satisfied with the condition of the emigrants made over to him, shall sign certificates to that effect.

60. Notice shall be sent at least one day before the date of despatch to the Superintendent, who shall place the emigrants on contract.

61. When the emigrants are assembled before the Superintendent to have their contracts explained, they shall have their copies of register in their hands, and their blankets, clothing, and utensils, according to scale, arranged beside them all ready for inspection.

62. The contractor shall be responsible for making all necessary provision to ensure the health, safety, and comfort of emigrants during transit. He shall supply provisions, clothing, medical stores, attendants, &c., according to the prescribed scales, and furnish all forms, registers, lists, &c., correctly filled in up to date of embarkation. Any neglect or carelessness shall subject him to withdrawal of his license.

63. The Superintendent or his assistant, and the contractor or his agent, shall be present at every despatch of emigrants, and their stores, &c., by train, steamers, or boats, of which the contractor shall give early notice to the Superintendent or his assistant.

64. Previous to every despatch, either by land or water, the emigrants shall be provided with a cooked meal.

65. Provisions, and the establishment of cooks, peons, topasses, shall precede or accompany, but shall never follow the emigrants on their way to the place of embarkation.

66. A medical officer and medical stores shall accompany them throughout the journey from Calcutta, if more than 50 go together at one time. For small batches, the sirdar or agent in charge shall be provided with a few simple remedies.

Transit by train.

67. Every provision shall be made for sudden cases of illness during transit. Doolies or other suitable means of conveyance shall be always in readiness at the railway station and place of embarkation.

68. Any emigrant suddenly taken ill at the railway station shall, in company with his or her dependents if they desire it, be sent to the depôt hospital in charge of a trustworthy peon, who shall deliver the patient, his contract, and all his clothes, blankets, utensils, &c. (according to scale), to the resident medical officer of the depôt, who shall give the peon a receipt.

69. The emigrants with the medical officer or agent in charge shall be at the railway station fully half an hour before the train starts, and all shall be safely in their places at least five minutes before the train moves.

70. In the carriages, emigrants shall be allowed at least four superficial feet of space to each statute adult, and there shall under no circumstances be more than sixty adults to each carriage.

71. In Calcutta good drinking water from the municipal pipes shall be supplied in a sufficient number of covered jars conveniently placed with the emigrants in each carriage.

72. It shall be arranged between the medical officer or agent and the railway guard in charge, that those who desire to get out of the train at any intermediate watering station, where time and weather permit, shall be allowed to do so, but that they shall be safely in their places fully five minutes before the train starts, and all shall be warned against attempting to get in or out of the carriages while in motion.

73. The contractor or agent, immediately on arriving at the Sealdah Station, shall send a telegram to the contractor's agent at the place of embarkation, reporting the intended despatch of emigrants, and ordering a cooked meal to be prepared against their arrival.

74. If the train journey be likely to occupy more than six hours, a supply of biscuits and sugar shall be distributed to the emigrants before they leave Calcutta, in the proportion of two biscuits and an ounce of sugar to each statute adult; and the doctor or agent in charge shall, under any circumstances, provide milk for infants, or young children that require it, during the journey.

Notice to Embarkation Agent.

75. The contractor's agent at the place of embarkation shall immediately on receipt of the telegram from Calcutta forward it for information to the Government Embarkation Agent.

76. The contractor or his agent shall send samples of the stores to be shipped with the emigrants for the approval of the Embarkation Agent, in time to admit of their being carefully examined before the final survey of stores on board.

Duties of Embarkation Agent and Medical Inspector at place of embarkation.

77. The Medical Inspector at Goalundo shall see that the embarkation depôts are kept in proper order, and shall exercise the same powers in respect of them that the Superintendent of Emigration and Medical Inspector have in Calcutta, reporting for the Superintendent's information any failure of contractors or their employés to attend to his orders.

78. An "emigrant" being any person who has engaged to go to a labor district, whether under the Act or not, under Section 67 an emigrant not under the Act shall not be embarked on a vessel carrying more than twenty persons without a pass from the Embarkation Agent, which the Agent shall give only after being satisfied that the emigrant has no serious contagious disease or anything else making him disagreeable and dangerous to others. Beyond this, however, the Embarkation Agent shall not interfere with free emigrants.

Survey of vessels and stores.

79. Every vessel for which a license is required under Section 62 of the Act, shall be surveyed by the Embarkation Agent to whom written application for survey shall be made by the master.

80. (a.) Primary survey shall be necessary, unless a vessel has been recently licensed for a former trip. The deck space intended for laborers shall be cleared and shown to the Embarkation Agent, who, if he approve of it and the general fitness of the vessel, shall ascertain by measurement how many statute adults may be accommodated, after which the fittings prescribed shall be provided.

81. (b.) When the fittings are completed, and the provisions on board carefully weighed and arranged for examination on deck according to their order in the provision list, the Embarkation Agent shall make a final survey of fittings and stores.

82. On receipt of the application for final survey, the Embarkation Agent shall communicate, if necessary, with the Medical Inspector, and with the doctor or agent going in charge, who shall be present at the survey.

83. If the batch is unusually large or there is much sickness, the Medical Inspector shall be consulted as to the propriety of sending additional medical aid, or an extra hospital boat.

84. The Embarkation Agent shall see that the fittings and stores are good and according to scale; and the Medical Inspector shall satisfy himself that the sanitary arrangements, hospital accommodation, and medical stores are also good and in accordance with what is prescribed.

85. A special examination shall be made by the Medical Inspector of any vessel in which much sickness has occurred on the voyage immediately preceding: and license shall be refused unless the master carry out such measures of disinfection, deck-caulking, &c., as the Medical Inspector may think necessary. If a vessel is found to be habitually unhealthy for emigrants license shall be refused her.

86. If emigrants are to be despatched in boats, an intelligent head manjee shall be selected by common consent of the others and appointed by the Embarkation Agent to exert general control over them in keeping the boats together, preserving order, and assisting the doctor or sirdars during the voyage. But it shall be distinctly understood by all that the appointment of a head manjee shall not in the least degree lessen the responsibility of each individual manjee. Under the law each one shall be personally liable for every offence or neglect of duty.

87. After everything has been examined and approved of, the master or manjee, and the doctor or sirdar in charge, shall sign the provision lists; and when the Superintendent is satisfied that all is correct, and that the master of the steamer, or head manjee in charge of the flotilla, has a copy of the Act and rules, he shall license the vessels.

Rules for survey of steamers and boats.

(a.)—General Rules.

89. Exclusive of hospital space, gangways, ventilating hatches, space for crew and attendants, and —on boats—for rowing and bailing out, properly sheltered deck space shall be provided on board steamers, flats, and boats at the rate of twelve superficial feet to each statute adult during the months of November, December, and January, and of fourteen superficial feet for the rest of the year. Every infant also shall be allowed deck space, in the proportion of one-half of that which is prescribed for a statute adult.

90. Hospital space shall be provided for five per cent. of the total number of statute adults to be carried; but such space shall be allotted at double the rate allowed for healthy adults, viz., 24 or 28 superficial feet to each statute adult, according to season; making reasonable allowance for space occupied by medical stores, &c.

91. It shall be ascertained that the term for which the engineer's and shipwright surveyor's certificates were granted has not expired.

92. No steamer shall be licensed except on condition that on the occurrence of serious sickness the flats will be towed astern, or that a proper hospital boat will be lashed alongside, or, best of all, that the entire upper deck of a flat—measured and licensed for the purpose—will be devoted to the use of the sick emigrants.

93. No steamer of doubtful power shall be permitted to tow two flats, especially during the months of June, July, August, September, and October, unless the master furnish a certificate of her power to the Embarkation Agent, who, if the result prove unsatisfactory, shall refuse a license for two flats on the next occasion; and any master who has been found evading the rules shall not be licensed again.

94. All fittings, &c., shall be provided entirely on board that vessel which is to convey the emigrants to their destination; but if necessary, and with the Medical Inspector's consent, the hospital may be furnished on an upper deck of the adjoining flat or steamer, if it accompany for the entire journey.

95. All roofs shall be strong, water-tight, and, if of corrugated iron, properly thatched or lined with matting, &c., as a protection against heat.

96. 97. Iron water tanks, with covers and taps, or a hand-pump complete, shall be placed conveniently and filled with the best water available—if in Calcutta, from the municipal hydrants—for the exclusive use of the emigrants.

98. One or two fire-proof cabooses, fitted inside with brick and plaster to accommodate the full number of boilers, according to scale, shall be firmly secured in the after-part of the vessel.

100 There shall never be less than two distinct privies on board of any vessel, and the accommodation in this respect shall be according to such scale and after such pattern as the Embarkation Agent shall, from time to time, direct. Separate privies shall be provided for females, and on the opposite side of the deck to those for the males.

101. Two wash-deck tubs kept filled with water shall be placed near the privies: one for males, and the other for females.

102. A well-protected space for washing and bathing in shall be provided, and furnished with a canvas screen for women.

103. All dangerously exposed places near hatches, ladders, bathing-places, privies, communication and landing stages, shall be properly railed in.

104. Embarkation, landing, and all communicating stages likely to be used by emigrants shall be at least three feet wide, well fastened, and provided with hand rails; this shall be always remembered when emigrants are to be embarked or landed.

105. The lower end of the funnel and other heated parts near the deck space for emigrants shall be enclosed with matting, wood, or other non-conducting material, to the height of four or five feet.

106. The space for emigrants shall be protected also against spray from the paddle-wheels; otherwise space opposite the paddle-boxes on both sides of steamers, and on one side of a flat (if to be lashed alongside), shall not be measured for emigrants.

107. A secure place under lock and key shall be provided for the stores; the vegetables shall be hung up in convenient places, but not out of sight; and bamboos shall be fastened, fore and aft, along the central stanchions, near the emigrants' deck space, so that the emigrants may hang up their bundles and blankets for the day.

108. Horses, pigs, and other animals, shall not be allowed on the same deck with the emigrants unless a space of 20 feet in breadth intervene; and the animals shall be kept clean and secured. Sheep pens shall be fitted. Vicious animals shall not be allowed on the same vessel with the emigrants.

111. Lanterns shall be hung up in their places ready for use.

112. They shall be of moderate and uniform size, strong, water-tight, and provided with side windows and movable jhamps, machan, or plank decks, masts, sails, oars, &c., all in good order.

113. No temporary addition to the size of the roof shall be allowed as a plea for carrying more persons than the boat was originally intended to accommodate, unless there be ample space, and the added part is in every respect as good as the rest.

114. All bamboo machan decks shall be matted.

115. All boats selected for the service shall be marked and numbered (stencilled in paint) thus on the bow, stern, or other prominent parts; and the mark and number shall be entered in the boat's license.

118. The medical officer in charge and medical stores shall always be on or near the hospital boat, which shall be distinguished from the rest by a red flag; and a call for the medical officer shall be signified by waving a white cloth. The Embarkation Agent shall see that some simple means of rapid communication is understood by all before they start. If the batch exceed 100 statute adults, a separate dispensary or medical officer's boat shall be provided, if necessary; it shall be small and swift.

119. The strongest and driest boats, lined with dunnage, should be selected for the conveyance of the stores, and the manjees of these boats shall sign the provision lists together with the medical officer or agent in charge.

120. There shall be a good lantern to each boat.

Procedure at embarkation.

121. Masters of steamers and manjees in charge of boats (conjointly with medical officers or sirdars) shall be considered in charge of the laborers and their stores; they shall be required to sign provision and embarkation lists, and their responsibility shall in no way be lessened by the official inspections.

122. They shall prepare crew and passenger lists, and—excepting those specified in the license, and cabin passengers' servants—no native passengers shall be allowed on board the same vessel with the emigrants, or on the same deck with them, if they occupy only the upper deck of a double-decked steamer or flat.

123. Masters shall see that the deck space for emigrants is clear, clean, and dry, and that ladders, stages, &c., are safely secured and railed.

124. During embarkation, all traffic, unless carried on by means of a separate stage and gangway, and every kind of work interfering with embarkation, shall be stopped.

125. Two men shall be stationed at the gangway, one to count and the other to keep a careful tally of the total number of emigrants (men, women, and children, including infants,) as they come on board, one by one, in answer to their names.

126. Emigrants shall not be received on board unless everything is perfectly ready and the vessels prepared to start, when notice shall be sent to the Embarkation Agent.

127. The Embarkation Agent and Medical Inspector (or, if the batch be small, a competent assistant deputed by them), the contractor or his agent, and the doctor or sirdar going in charge, shall be present at every embarkation of emigrants exceeding twenty statute adults in number.

128. They shall not embark without the permission of the Embarkation Agent, except under stress of weather, when they shall be mustered and examined under shelter on board.

132. As soon as possible after the vessels leave, the Embarkation Agent shall forward to the Super-

This is a point that requires repeated attention.

136. Peons and sirdars shall obey the instructions of the master and doctor, and shall immediately report any defects, pilfering of stores, neglect of duty, cases of sickness, and disagreements affecting the emigrants, to the doctor or master, who shall attend to the case as soon as possible.

137. Peons and sirdars shall have their day and night duties fairly divided and clearly defined. When there are sick in hospital, peons, sirdars, and topases shall be deputed to hospital duty, so that the sick may constantly be cared for, and the attendants regularly relieved by others in rotation. Careful night-nursing of the sick shall be attended to.

143. The decks shall be dry holy-stoned by the emigrants daily, but washed only when weather, time, and other circumstances permit; the emigrants shall be landed, or accommodated on another deck till their deck is thoroughly dry.

144. Emigrants' clothes, mats, and blankets shall be aired and put in the sun as often as possible, especially after damp weather.

145. They may be permitted, with the consent of the medical officer in charge, to assist in coaling, or other labor unattended by any risk and short of fatigue. They shall always be encouraged to occupy and amuse themselves.

146. The masters of steamers and flats and medical officers in charge shall strictly prohibit all emigrants or other native passengers from crossing over from one vessel to the other; and with this object shall not permit communicating stages between the vessels to be placed where they favor such intercourse. It will be necessary constantly to watch such communicating stages. The neglect of this prevention may propagate disease and lead to accidents.

147. Emigrants shall not be allowed finally to leave any steamer or boat at any place excepting that named in their passes, save under circumstances of necessity provided for in the Act; but, when time and weather permit, they may be landed for a few hours with the consent of the medical officer, who shall always take care to prevent them from visiting bazars and villages on the way, or landing at places infected with cholera, small-pox, &c.

148. They shall be properly arranged at night and prevented from crowding together; and lanterns shall burn all night in the dispensary, and near privies and gangways.

149. The cooks, assisted by peons and sirdars, shall prepare the food punctually, and when ready it shall be examined, before it is served out, by the doctor or assistant in charge, who shall see that all is well cooked, and distributed fully and fairly according to scale. 150. All extra allowances of fish, meat, vegetables, &c., and any change in diet, shall be regulated by the doctor only.

151. A constant supply of good drinking water shall be kept up in the tanks, which shall be used alternately, allowing the water to settle after the addition of alum in the proportion of six grains to the gallon. The health of the emigrants will depend in very great measure on the water they drink, and, therefore, every effort shall be made to prevent them from drinking the river water fresh drawn from the side of the vessel. There should be no difficulty in carrying out this rule on board steamers and flats.

152. The surplus of emigrants' stores shall not be sold till the end of the passage, or till the emigrants for whom they were supplied have been landed; and the certificates to this effect shall be signed by the master and doctor or other officer in charge and the Disembarkation Officer.

153. In the event of any deficiency or pilfering of stores being detected, immediate inquiry shall be made, and the offender prosecuted at the first convenient station.

154. The topases shall sweep the decks morning and evening, and after every meal; and shall keep them always clean and dry. They shall also keep the privies and bed-pans constantly clean and sprinkled with disinfecting powder or carbolic acid; and shall fill the tubs near the privies regularly with water.

Outbreaks of disease.

155. Emigrants suffering from slight illness may be attended in their berths, but all serious cases shall be treated in hospital; and persons attacked by cholera or small-pox or other communicable disease, with all that belongs to them, shall be instantly and thoroughly isolated from the healthy. Even the family or batch in which the case occurred shall be kept on another deck, or as far apart as possible from the rest of the emigrants without exciting alarm.

156. The place or boat on which the disease first breaks out shall be instantly cleared, the deck and wood-work shall be thoroughly cleaned, scraped, and scrubbed with hot sand and disinfecting powder (or washed down with a hot solution of caustic lime, if procurable), and the entire space shall be fumigated with burning sulphur, by letting down screens (or jhamps on board boats) and confining the sulphurous fumes for a time; after which free ventilation shall be promoted, and the place left unoccupied, if possible, for a week or longer.

157. All the latrines shall be washed after the manner of whitewashers with a thin paste of McDougall's disinfecting powder and water, and disinfected and fumigated as above.

158. On steamers or boats the above rule shall be carried out on the occurrence of the first case. The object is to prevent, and not to wait for an epidemic, which can be checked only by promptly and simultaneously attending to premonitory symptoms, isolation of the sick, general and personal cleanliness, careful disposal of excreta, disinfection and destruction of infected articles, free ventilation, and care of the healthy.

159. On boats it may not always be possible to follow the above instructions very closely, but they shall be acted upon as far as possible; and under any circumstances, after the patient has been removed to the hospital boat, the healthy shall be landed and made to bathe and wash their clothes, while the boat is being thoroughly cleaned and disinfected in the manner enjoined. The emigrants shall not be allowed to re-enter their boat till everything is clean and dry about them, and the bilge of the boat has been freely sprinkled with disinfecting powder or carbolic acid.

160. All clothes, blankets, mats, &c., that have been in any way in contact with those suffering from communicable disease, or have been soiled or are suspected of infection or impurity, shall be thrown overboard, or, what is better, burnt on shore if possible, in the presence of the medical officer.

161. If there is a medical officer in charge, a medical diary shall be carefully kept. Every death shall be reported immediately to the master of the steamer. He, or the doctor, shall take charge of any property (money, &c.,) left by the deceased, and, if there be no relatives on board, he shall deliver it to the Magistrate at the place of disembarkation.

162. Masters of vessels shall report their arrival at each station to the senior magisterial officer and to the medical officer; omission to do so shall entail prosecution or forfeiture of license for the future. They shall take up such anchorage or moving ground as the Magistrate may direct.

The way-bill.

163. The master or medical officer in charge shall place the way-bill (form appended) received from the Embarkation Agent before the inspecting officers at each station, in order that they may enter their remarks on the several points indicated in the bill.

164. Masters and medical officers in charge of emigrants shall furnish all necessary information and afford every facility to inspecting officers at each station in carrying out their duties under the provisions of the Act and rules.

165. At the end of the voyage, after the last official inspection at the place of final disembarkation, the master or medical officer in charge shall forward the way-bill in original to the Embarkation Agent at place of embarkation for his remarks, and its ultimate submission to Government through the Superintendent of Emigration at Calcutta.

Special rules for boats.

166. Medical officers proceeding in charge of emigrants in boats shall be guided by the rules above.

The medical officer shall endeavour to keep the boats forming the flotilla together, and shall keep the hospital boat following the fleet. He shall take care that the boats are not changed, and that the hospital boat is used only for the purpose intended.

167. In the event of any of the boats being disabled by accident, he shall report this or any other defects to the Magistrate at the nearest civil station, so that measures may be adopted to remedy them.

168. When cholera is prevalent, he shall, in order to restrain premonitory diarrhœa till the case can be attended to by the doctor, distribute to intelligent sirdars or peons in each boat some simple pills or mixtures, of which opium should form a very small proportion, with clear instructions how to use them.

169. Besides constant attention to the sick, the medical officer shall see that the boats and their bilges are kept clean, that the emigrants are generally clean and well cared for, that foul or infected villages or places are avoided, and that at night the boats are not fastened to any defiled or unwholesome bank.

Disembarkation.

170. At every place where emigrants are finally disembarked, sufficient and good accommodation, food, water, medicines, medical comforts, and doolies for the conveyance of the sick shall be provided.

171. Any private person or company may establish disembarkation depôts, but they shall be subject to the inspection and approval of the Magistrates and civil medical officers of the districts in which they are situated, and under whose general control all disembarkation depôts shall be managed.

172. At every landing place where the average number of emigrants landed is sufficiently large to render it necessary, a native medical officer shall be appointed to have charge of it. Besides sleeping and cooking sheds, there shall be separate hospitals for ordinary and contagious cases, and separate wards and latrines for males and females.

173. The medical officers in charge of the larger depôts, and the employer's agents or medical officers in charge of private depôts where small batches are only occasionally landed, shall be responsible for the sanitary state of the depôts, and the good treatment of the emigrants in them. A sufficient number of attendants and sweepers shall also be provided; and, as far as they are applicable, the rules for the management of depôts in Calcutta shall be followed.

174. The medical officer or agent in charge of the depôt shall represent to the proper authorities any defects or deficiencies, in order that they may be remedied at once.

175. He shall have doolies in readiness for the sick, who shall be landed without suffering or delay, and conveyed to hospital.

176. He shall see that only those who are fit to travel to their final destination are permitted to leave the depôt, and that members of a family are not separated except with their mutual consent.

177. When it is impossible to cook food for emigrants on the march, they shall be supplied with a sufficient quantity of biscuits and sugar; and if milk be not procurable, preserved milk shall i possible, be provided for young children, nursing mothers, and convalescents. The addition of half a gallon of water to a tin of Anglo-Swiss preserved milk is all that would be necessary.

178. The medical officers in charge of disembarkation depôts shall keep a general register and a medical register in form prescribed.

179. On the recovery of emigrants detained on account of sickness, they shall be forwarded without delay to their final destination. In the event of any one being considered unfit for labor, it shall be necessary for the Disembarkation Officer to consult with the Magistrate of the district and the employer concerned, in order that it may be decided whether such laborer shall be accepted by the employer as a non-effective, or whether the laborer shall be released from his contract.

180. Medical officers or agents in charge of disembarkation depôts shall furnish such reports or returns as may from time to time be required of them for the information of Government.

V.—Rules regarding the detention of Emigrants on account of sickness.

181. A distinction is made in the Act (Sections 76 and 78) between contract emigrants who may be detained for treatment or otherwise for their own benefit, and non-contract emigrants who may be detained only if their proceeding endangers the health of others. Emigrants of the former class shall be kept at the disembarkation depôt hospital, if there be such, or at the charitable dispensary, or such other convenient place as the Magistrate may direct. If their disease is communicable, such as cholera or small-pox, they shall be isolated as much as possible, and not brought into any civil station. All expenses incurred on account of such emigrants or their dependents shall be recovered by the Magistrate under Section 77. Expenses incurred on account of non-contract emigrants shall not be so recovered. If the sirdar in charge or they themselves have the means they shall be paid for or pay for themselves. If they are alone and poor they shall be treated charitably as any other sick pauper. In case of absolute necessity to save life any necessary expense may be incurred on behalf of Government.

VI.—Rules regarding Dependents.

182. Under Section 93 of the Act the women, children, and aged relatives of emigrants who have engaged under the Act, though not themselves under engagement, may, with the consent of a contractor, recruiter, or garden-sirdar, as the case may be, and with the written permission of the registering Magistrate or Superintendent, accompany them without having entered into an engagement.

183. A list in the prescribed form of the dependents accompanying each batch, shall be laid before the Magistrate or Superintendent that he may signify thereon his permission as above.

184. Garden-sirdars and recruiters shall provide for dependents on the journey in the same way as for emigrants. Dependents shall be entitled also to similar accommodation in depôt and be provided with similar food and clothing. All the foregoing rules shall in short be applicable to them save as regards putting them on contract.

185. Care shall be taken that they are not separated from their families. If a dependent emigrant falls ill and is detained on the road, the effective members of his family shall have the option of remaining with him, just as an emigrant so detained is entitled to have his dependent relatives left to look after him.

186. Magistrates shall recover under Section 77 any expenses incurred by them under Section 76 for a dependent emigrant.

PART II.

House accommodation.

1. Each statute adult laborer and dependent, whether effective or non-effective, shall be entitled to not less than 50 superficial feet of house accommodation, and the houses shall be high enough for health and ventilation; and each family, or each group of four persons not being a family, shall be entitled to separate house accommodation on the above scale: except where good houses sufficient to hold not more than six are already in existence. Wherever it is possible, sufficient garden ground shall be attached to each house or row of houses.

2. Each house shall be kept weather-tight and properly ventilated, and in cases where iron roofs are used, they shall be covered or lined with some non-conducting material.

3. The Inspector may, when he deems it necessary, direct any employer of laborers to provide sufficient and proper means for affording to the laborers' houses light and air, such as opposite doors and windows, or ventilating apertures under the eaves capable of being wholly or partially closed.

4. He may also direct any laborer's house to be properly supplied with raised machans or charpoys for sleeping on.

Hospital accommodation and sanitary arrangements.

5. Ordinarily there shall be a hospital on each garden, or part of a garden, on which cooly lines are situated, provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Inspector of Laborers, by an order in writing, to allow one central hospital for groups of two or more neighbouring gardens.

6. The hospital shall be separated from the laborers' houses; it shall be well raised, ventilated, and lighted, and properly fitted with doors and windows or jhamps.

7. The hospital accommodation shall be sufficient for at least five patients, and for not less than five per cent. of the total number of laborers employed on the estate or garden, at the rate of 100 superficial feet for each patient.

8. Each hospital may consist of one or more separate buildings, provided that every such building shall be used exclusively for the purposes of a hospital.

9. Subject to the approval of the Inspector of Laborers, within the local limits of whose authority the hospital may be situated, there shall be provided (a) a sufficient number of hospital attendants to nurse the sick, prepare their food for them, and keep them and their places clean; and (b) such necessary furniture, fittings, appliances, clothing, and blankets, as the medical officer in charge of the hospital may indent for in writing, as absolutely necessary for the laborers under his care, and the proper discharge of his duties. Medical stores shall be provided for each garden according to Schedule F attached to these rules.

10. Every case of communicable disease shall be isolated, and in the event of an epidemic breaking out, the employer shall provide sufficient hospital accommodation of a temporary nature.

11. Excreta from the sick, especially from cholera patients, shall be buried without delay, and with particular care. On no account shall they be buried in or even near the trenches used by healthy laborers: a separate place shall be selected for the purpose at some distance from everything they are likely to contaminate.

12. On the occurrence of disease supposed to be communicable, such as small-pox, cholera, &c., the place shall be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. The walls and floor shall be scraped, mud-plastered, or whitewashed; and the house shall not be re-occupied for at least a week. All suspected or infected clothing shall be thoroughly disinfected or burnt in some safe or suitable spot, in the presence of the medical officer, or some one who can be trusted to see it carefully done.

13. Those who die of communicable disease shall be buried or burnt without delay; and a proper burial or burning-ground shall be selected, if possible, about a mile from the coolies' dwellings and their water-supply. Bodies shall be thoroughly burnt, or buried at least four feet deep.

14. Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to prohibit the treatment of persons suffering from slight ailment in their own homes.

15. On every garden where laborers' lines are erected, such proper accommodation for a dispensary or dispenser's room, and such medical stores within the limit of the annexed scales as the medical officer in charge may indent for in writing shall be provided, subject to the approval of the Inspector of Laborers. Provided always that if the Inspector of Laborers should consider the supply in any garden insufficient, he may, within the limits of the above scale, order the deficiency to be made good.

16. The laborers' lines and their immediate neighbourhood shall be kept clean and free from impurity.

17. The Inspector may direct any employer of laborers to take such measures as may in the Inspector's opinion be necessary for carrying off surface water from the neighbourhood of the laborers' lines, whenever the accumulation of such water may be considered by the Inspector likely to be injurious to the health of the laborers.

Water-supply.

18. Every employer shall provide wholesome drinking water and a sufficient supply of good water for other purposes for his laborers.

19. The Inspector may direct any employer of laborers to provide water as above either by sinking wells, digging tanks, or in such other manner as may seem to the Inspector suitable to the circumstances of the case; and may provide that the source of drinking water shall be situated at such distance, as may seem to the Inspector necessary, from any known cause of pollution.

Food-supply.

20. When there is not a sufficient supply of rice in the local market, or when the price of rice in such markets exceeds Rs. 3 per maund, the employer shall keep in store, or otherwise cause to be supplied for sale at the rate of not more than Rs. 3 a maund or other rate provided in the contracts, a sufficient supply of rice for such time as the Inspector of Laborers may direct by an order in writing. Ten chittacks of rice a day for each statute adult shall be considered under the above rule a sufficient supply.

21. An Inspector or Magistrate proposing to make a judicial inquiry under Section 115 into the breach of any of the rules, shall give notice in writing to the employer of his intention to make such inquiry.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill is the last of the series of measures (Acts VIII of 1868, XIV of 1870, XXIX of 1871 and XII of 1873 are the preceding terms) which have been prepared with a view of lessening the bulk of the Indian Statute-book, and thus facilitating the production of a revised edition of the Acts and Regulations. If it become law, it will remove from the Statute-book 37 enactments wholly and 210 in part.

So far as relates to the Bengal Regulations, the present Bill is to a large extent founded on a valuable Note by Mr. C. D. Field, District Judge of Chittagong, dated August 2nd, 1873, which has been forwarded to the Legislative Department by the Government of Bengal.
